

Lee Not To Run Again; Gibbs Seeks Nomination

Wide Open Contest Is Possibility

Richard H. Lee (R-Newton) last week that he would not be a candidate for re-election in the Fall, throws the contest for the Senate seat in the district which comprises all of this city; Ward 22, Brighton; and Ward 5 in Cambridge, wide open.

First to announce his intention to secure the Republican nomination for the Senate following Lee's announcement, is Rep. Donald L. Gibbs (R-Newton). Gibbs had previously announced his intention to seek re-election to the House of Representatives but now that Lee has indicated he will not again be a candidate, Gibbs has decided to seek the Senate seat instead.

SEN. RICHARD LEE

Thus, unless Rep. George E. Rawson decides to seek re-election, which he has not up to this time indicated, there will be two vacancies for the Republican nomination for Representative. Representatives Heaney and Thresher have already announced their candidacies for re-election.

MDC Asks Approval for Road Plan

The MDC's efforts to extend its parkway belt toward Newton is now in the General Court where a bill asking permission to take land in the Brighton Abattoir section now rests in committee.

The MDC commissioners voted to take this action at a meeting last week. They have not yet revealed definite plans for the extension up Nonantum road, nor are detailed plans ready yet on the proposed six-lane divided highway from Western avenue to Nonantum road.

3 School Appointments

Davidson Named Weeks' Principal

Donald K. Davidson, assistant principal at Weeks Junior High, has been elevated to principal to succeed Raymond W. Blaisdell who is retiring this year.

Helena M. Glenn, a teacher at Weeks, will succeed Davidson in the assistant principal post.

Mrs. Eleanor Buhrman Lester, an elementary supervisor in the Abington, Va., schools for nearly 10 years, has been appointed co-ordinator of elementary education to succeed Mrs. Dorothy Stewart, now principal of Cabot School.

Davidson has been in the Newton public schools system since 1947, a year after his discharge from the Army Air Force as a lieutenant colonel.

He once served as administrative assistant to the Newton High principal and has served on the school's curriculum and school exchange and scholarship awards committees.

Hailer Is A Candidate For Congress

FREDERICK HAILER, JR.

Former City Councillor Frederick C. Hailer, Jr., of West Roxbury this week announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 10th congressional district.

Hailer was the Democratic nominee against Congressman Laurence Curtis in 1952 and received the highest vote ever received by a Democratic congressman.

He was in the science department, and guidance department, in addition to serving as assistant football and baseball coach for three of his seven years at Newton High School, and in 1953-54 he was president of the Newton Teachers Federation.

He served in the Army Air Force from 1942 to 1946. A graduate of Brookline High School, Davidson received his B.S. degree from the University of Rhode Island in electrical engineering and business administration.

Davidson later studied administration and education at Harvard University, current affairs at the University of Vermont, and received a Master of Education degree in 1941 from Boston University. In 1954-55 he was a Gutman fellow in human relations at Boston University and has nearly completed work for a doctorate.

Miss Glenn has taught at Weeks since September, 1944, except for last year when she traveled throughout the United States visiting junior high schools on a Ford Fellowship.

She graduated from Wheaton College and took a Master's Degree at Wellesley College. She also studied at Harvard University School of Education. Miss Glenn teaches English at Weeks.

Miss Glenn has traveled in Central America, Mexico and Puerto Rico and has worked for the Red Cross and other fund drives in Melrose.

Aldermen Hold Up Mason-Rice Funds

Mayor Whitmore's proposal to start preliminary studies on the proposed Mason-Rice School in Newton Center has become bogged down in the Public Buildings Committee of the Board of Aldermen.

By a vote of 5-0 the committee voted to hold for further study the Mayor's request for $10,000 to finance preliminary architectural drafts and engineering studies of the site.

Revelation that an engineering study of the site had yet to be made caught residents of the area by surprise since they and the School Board had supposed the Centre playground site had received an engineering okay in the Spring.

However, it is learned that the city feels that a full-scale engineering study is needed to insure that the ground, which has been flooded at times, can support a building.

The Mayor's request could be reported out at the June 25 meeting. If it is approved, test borings can be made on the site this summer.

At the same meeting Monday, the board voted $352,500 be appropriated for the construction of an addition to the Cabot School, including original furnishings, equipment and grading.

This amount was trimmed from $355,000 requested by Mayor Whitmore. Actual cost

Intramural sports was pictured as the "poor relation" of the smoothly-run Newton public school system last week by a man who should know.

Frank Simmons, head of the Newton High physical education department, told the School Board a full-time instructor in such sports is needed if the city is not to turn out second-rate physical specimens.

Simmons linked the habit of "driving everywhere" and the disregard of physical fitness for the non-athletic individual and said the schools need to correct this "indifference."

A special musical program by the high school band will be given from 6:30 to 7:00 p.m.

The Graduation Address, "No Life for Amateurs", will be delivered by Raymond Stevens, President of Arthur D. Little, Inc.

Franklin D. Jerome of Waban Named Chairman of Financial Division of Red Feather Fund

FRANKLIN JEROME

Franklin D. Jerome, 140 Carlton road, Waban, vice president of the Old Colony Trust Company, Boston, has been named chairman of the Blue (financial) division of Greater Boston's 1957 Red Feather Campaign, Joseph W. Lund, campaign chairman announced today.

An active worker in Red Feather drives since 1948, Mr. Jerome is director of the Newton Community Chest and chairman of the Campaign Advisory Committee in Newton for the 1957 Red Feather drive. He served as Waban village chairman in the 1952 campaign, was Newton's general chairman in 1953, and was a Community Chest budget committee member for three years.

Mr. Jerome is a graduate of Wayne University, Detroit. Past president of the Waban Neighborhood Club and the Men's Club of Union Church, Waban, he is director of the Newton YMCA, a Red Feather agency. He and his wife, Joyce, have a daughter, Sandra, aged 17.

The 1957 Red Feather drive seeks support for 277 health and social welfare agencies which serve annually one out of every three people in the 48 cities and towns of Metropolitan Boston.

"It has long been my conviction that the annual Red Feather drive—aside from the recognized economies it effects by providing in one major effort the financial needs of 277 health and social welfare agencies—is a positive and unifying force

Firemen Are Commended for Fine Efforts

In a special notice to all fire stations issued last Friday, Chief John E. Corcoran commended the following personnel of Engines 3 and 7, and Ladder 2, for their outstanding efforts to extinguish a fire in the residence of Joseph H. Cain at 216 Jackson street, Newton Centre at 4:00 a.m., May 30: Engine 3: Lt. Demmons, F. L. Swett, J. A. Leone, K. S. Finnell, P. S. Guzzi.

Engine 7: Capt. Preble, R. W. Beecher, J. R. Cetrone, H. E. Stanton, Jr.

Ladder 2: Lt. Cassidy, R. J. Cavallo, M. J. Keough Jr., B. J. Goulding, and G. L. McMahon.

"The successful discovery of the victim of smoke inhalation, Joseph Cain the owner and occupant of the residence involved in the fire, by Fire Fighter Kenneth S. Finnell of Engine 3, together with Lt. Robert E. Demmons and others, is considered a meritorious act worthy of the praise and commendation which said fire fighters merit in keeping with the high traditions of this department," Chief Corcoran stated.

Camp Quinapoxet Enrollment Filled

Camp Quinapoxet, summer camp of Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, situated on a beautiful lake in the Monadnock area at Rindge, New Hampshire, reports that its first period, June 29, to August 12, is completely filled and has a waiting list of twenty.

The second period, which runs from August 12 to August 26, still has approximately 30 openings. Camp Dir. Ralph B. Johnson, urges that any Scouts wishing to attend Camp Quinapoxet make their reservations as soon as possible. Camp fees for the two-week period are $47.00.

The Norumbega Council Camping Committee has done an outstanding job in conjunction with the Cambridge Council, Boy Scouts of America, in the preparation of Camp Quinapoxet for this summer's camping season. The Norumbega Council Camp Quinapoxet Committee, which is headed by Joseph M. Bradley, is comprised of George M. Shannon, Daniel Mordecai, Curtis B. Forbes, Arthur Menard, James D. Blackall, Marshall S. David, Kivie Kaplan, Frank L. Springer, Neil W. Swinton, Walter T. Tower, Thomas G. Doyle, George C. Thompson and David Berkman.

Eliot Collects $514,000 for Church

Eliot Church has collected $514,000 of the $550,000 needed for a new edifice at Newton Corner and hopes to begin clearing the fire wreckage from the site within the next two months.

Clearing of the site will be held up, according to Dr. E. Ray Johns, chairman of the building committee, until detailed plans of the new church can show how much of the old foundation must be filled in.

Starting with the $300,000 insurance money, the church now has collected $214,000 of the remaining funds in the month-long drive. A concerted effort to raise the remainder will be made in the next two weeks. Preliminary sketches of the proposed church will be submitted to a meeting of the congregation on Wednesday, June 13.

Dr. Johns said that use of the stones from the former church would not be feasible since experts maintain that intense heat could not be guaranteed as to safety. Even without this drawback, the cost of cleaning the stones would be prohibitive, he said.

The church expressed thanks to the many organizations and individuals outside of its congregation and neighboring churches for their generosity since the fire.

Contributions ranging from 25 cents to thousands of dollars have flowed in from "outside," it is pointed out. Permission by other churches to use their quarters has been especially helpful, Dr. Johns said.

Served With Distinction

In a statement announcing his retirement from the position as State legislator, Senator Richard H. Lee got right down to the nub of one of the evident facts pertaining to our legislative process of procedure. Among other things he said: "This long duration, coupled with frequent night sessions, makes it impossible for businessmen and professional men, who are dependent upon their jobs for a living, to remain in the Legislature."

In elucidating on this fact, Senator Lee may not exactly have endeared himself to some of his colleagues but no one can deny that in a characteristic frank manner, he has just about called the turn on what is the trouble with our legislature. This is that sessions are permitted to drag on and on with little attempt being made at the start of a session to eliminate as quickly as possible the minor matters which annually pester the procedure of legislative action. Consequently, major matters drag on and on until the approach of summer or a political campaign is impending and then these important issues are rushed through without proper consideration being given to them.

Thus adjournment drags on and on and as it does, laxity or an insufficient amount of thought is given to matters which should have received serious consideration weeks, yes months before. This is not good procedure and the public knows it, even though there may be some legislators who do not know it.

The public little expects its legislators to spend the best part of each year to the consideration of public matters when such matters might well be disposed of with a little more concerted effort.

Nor does the general public expect that our legislators will make their job a full time job. Yet that appears to be the trend in recent years.

But aside from all that, the fact remains that until the legislature procedure can be speeded up in Massachusetts, as in other states, the desire of qualified men to seek office and render a public service will remain remote.

We feel that Senator Lee is bringing this situation out so clearly in his announcement of retirement after 10 fruitful years, following rendition of a distinct public service.

He might well have also emphasized that in addition to procedures, lengthy sessions are very apt to continue so long as legislators feel they are more qualified to render decisions on home rule matters than are the residents of the respective communities.

Home rule on civic matters has long been sought by local communities. Home rule should be taken out of the Legislature and placed back where it belongs—in the respective cities and towns of the state. Who better can judge the wisdom of decisions than the residents of the respective communities.

In retiring from public office, temporarily at least, Senator Lee can look back on a distinguished record of fearless judgment and a forthright desire to be a real public servant. What better record can any man hope to achieve?

Political Overtones

Executive Councillor Patrick J. McDonough of Dorchester appears to be leading former Treasurer Foster Furcolo of Longmeadow in the race for the Democratic endorsement for Governor. The name of Thomas H. Buckley of Abington, one time State Auditor and former chairman of the State Commission on Administration and Finance, will be submitted to the convention, but except in his own section of the State he has very scanty support among the delegates.

An element of uncertainty surrounds this conflict because of persistent rumors that District Attorney Garrett H. Byrne may become a last-minute contender. Those reports are largely discounted because up to the time that this is written Byrne has made no effort to line up support, and the conjecture as to his status may stem principally from his admirers.

Byrne would have been a very potent contender if he had begun campaigning two or three months ago. It does not seem, however, that he could enter the contest at the 11th hour and defeat McDonough who has been working for 18 months toward the coming convention. Neither is it likely that the District Attorney would assume the handicap of moving into an uneven battle at this stage.

McDonough almost certainly will stand as the favorite to gain the gubernatorial nod when the convention is called to order Friday afternoon. Furcolo gave the Executive Councillor so big a head start before launching his own drive that it would now be a definite upset if he were to overtake McDonough and defeat him.

Furcolo has claimed that he will win the endorsement by a 3-1 margin. Time conceivably might prove him correct in that appraisal. However, his own unwillingness to abide by the decision of the convention has caused observers to discount his predictions.

Councillor McDonough appears to have retained most of his delegate support from two years ago, when he led for three ballots in the gubernatorial conflict, and to have built his strength in areas where he was weak in 1954. He isn't quite as strong in Western Massachusetts as he was in '54. Yet, he has surprising backing there, when it is considered that Furcolo would ordinarily be expected to sweep his own section of the Commonwealth.

In Greater Boston, McDonough has far more support than he did in his clash with Robert F. Murphy two years ago, and it will be in the delegations from the metropolitan area that most of the convention contests will be won and lost.

Executive Councillor George A. Wells of Worcester looms as the front-runner in the fight for the endorsement for Lieutenant Governor. The picture reflected by that battle, however, has been complicated and confused by the fact that three new candidates piled into the race in the past 10 days. It also must be remembered that trades involving the lower places on the State ticket could be made after the race for the gubernatorial slot is settled.

In addition to Wells, the candidates for Lieutenant Governor are ex-Representative James A. Burke of Hyde Park, Robert F. Murphy of Malden, Democratic nominee for Governor two years ago; Mayor John F. Kane of Fall River, Mayor William J. Donovan of Somerville and Register of Deeds John P. Lynch of Springfield. Murphy, Kane and Donovan are all comparative newcomers in the field.

Wells started earlier and worked longer and harder than any of the other candidates, with ex-Representative Burke also conducting a hard drive. Up to a fortnight ago, this contest was a race between Wells and Burke, with Lynch trailing in third position.

The complexion of the picture changed when Murphy unexpectedly stepped into the field early last week. Many of the delegates who will attend the convention supported Murphy for the gubernatorial nomination in 1954, but a larger percentage of them already had committed themselves to other candidates before he decided to run.

Whether Murphy can overtake Wells in the short period he has to campaign is uncertain. One thing he has done, however, is to pull votes away from Burke and to make inroads into the district where the former Hyde Park legislator was considered very strong.

Where the fight formerly was between Wells and Burke, it now appears to be between Wells and Murphy, with Burke pushed back into third place by the sudden drive of the man with whom he teamed on the Democratic State ticket two years ago.

Mayors Kane and Donovan also piled into the fight behind Murphy. It is understood that both of them think they have a good chance of becoming the nominee for Lieutenant Governor if Furcolo should prove to be the gubernatorial choice.

On the surface it would seem that none of the six candidates is likely to poll enough votes on the first ballot to win. This fight could provide one of the logjams that would deadlock the convention. It is a contest that is surrounded by a heavy air of uncertainty.

-- ANIMAL FAIR -- Mostly Donkeys and Elephants

By ROBERT LESBERG

Are you a Donkephant? Or a member of one? There are actually two kinds, you know—the personal and the family type—and it is important for you to be able to recognize both types so that if you are ever confronted with one or the other you can take appropriate action. The family type is the easiest to spot and the hardest to break up. Political schizophrenia in families is sometimes considered a good thing by outsiders who aren't in the know. The attendant comment usually runs something like, "Isn't it wonderful that they can see both sides of a question and make up their minds intelligently." Actually, there is nothing intelligent at all about the way this particular family makes up its collective mind. It's easy—they don't have a collective mind. And in an election period there is no safe subject for discussion—not even the weather, as evidenced by this enlightening dinner table conversation.

Daddy Warbucks (who has just been hit by his local Eisenhower committee for a sizable well-still-have-faith-in-the-team donation). Now that Massachusetts is in the hurricane path, I suppose we'll have to spend the summer in the cellar again. It's disgraceful!

Mama Warbucks (who has been addressing Stevenson brochures all day and who, as usual, had to kick in for the man John W. McCormack, appears to have the edge in the race for the nomination for Attorney General, although there have been persistent rumors that supporters of Senator John F. Kennedy have been doing quiet but effective work for Governor's Councillor Endicott (Chub) Peabody of Cambridge, former All America Harvard football player.

This is a particularly difficult fight to figure. Any one of the three major contenders—McCormack, Peabody and Representative Joseph D. Ward of Fitchburg—conceivably might emerge the winner. A fourth candidate, Attorney George K. Black of Dorchester, has no chance of finishing better than last.

McCormack, Peabody and Ward all have some backing. McCormack is strong in the Greater Boston area and is getting powerful support from friends of his famous uncle. Ward has the help of many members of the Legislature.

Peabody is the real "sleeper" in the field. Senator Kennedy personally has not taken a stand in any of the battles for Democratic endorsements. But a sizeable number of persons considered members of his organization are working energetically for Peabody. They might succeed in swinging enough votes to him to make him the winner.

Responsible Democratic leaders, who are anxious to prevent their party's State convention from becoming the farce and fiasco it was two years ago, are worried about the struggle for the endorsement for Attorney General. It is the last one on the list, and if the conclave is bogged down by stalemates, many of the delegates may go home, as they did in 1954, before it was decided.

No precautions have been taken to prevent deadlocks in any of the contests. The Republicans guard against such a situation by adopting a rule providing that the low man in each contest is eliminated if no candidate polls a majority of the votes. The Democrats, however, do not do that.

Attempt Will Be Made to Drop Kennedy. State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley and Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin both seemingly are assured of renomination without serious opposition, but Democratic leaders are quietly planning to wield the political axe on State Treasurer John F. Kennedy. Whether they can manage the defeat of Kennedy is uncertain, but they will make quiet an effort to do so, and the guessing is that they will succeed.

State Civil Service Commissioner Clement A. Riley of Norwood is the man behind whom most of the Democratic chieftains are rallying in their attempt to block off Kennedy whom they do not want on their State ticket next fall.

Boston School Committee member George F. Hurley of West Roxbury stepped into the fight last week, but he made a late start and tossed his hat into the ring after most of the forces arrayed against Kennedy had committed themselves to Riley.

stamps). Well, all I can say is that we never had so many when the Democrats were in office.

See what I mean? Or perhaps you prefer when Junior comes dashing in with six slightly tarnished "Win With Wilkie" buttons, and Daddy's eyes glisten nostalgically until he finds out that Mama has been using the buttons to trace "Don't Blame Me—I Voted Democratic" all over their personal stationery. It's times like these that someone moves into the guest room for a while and poor Junior finds the latest copy of the Democratic Digest tucked daily into his school lunch box, while his evenings are spent with Daddy discussing the horrors of socialized medicine and why Dixon Yates was really a good thing for the children of the country and strictly legal, too.

Now the Donkephants in this case are obviously committing the cardinal sin of not leaving their heated political convictions outside the threshold of their once happy home. As for Junior, he is now determined to grow up as quickly as possible and move to California where he will cross his party designation in a different direction at every possible opportunity and after half a dozen elections, he will move back to Newton and become a determined Donkephant himself. And confuse his own children.

The fact that the 10th Congressional District in which we live was once tailor made for the Republican Party and therefore presumed safe forever for the GOP has made no impression on former U. S. Attorney Jackson J. Holtz, and rightly so. Having just formally announced his intention of running once more for the seat, he is currently preparing a campaign that will take him throughout the district enough times in the coming months to turn the few votes per precinct that will put the district into the Democratic column. You will recall from 1954 that the GOP margin was so slim as to throw the contest into a recount. More on this later. . . . Donkey Tales. . . Senator Furbright says "It's getting so you can be accused of unlawful assembly if you stop to collect your thoughts".

This shapes up as a stormy and bitter convention which may get into a series of heated wrangles before the balloting for endorsements even begins.

An attempt will be to adjourn the convention without endorsing any candidates. That motion almost certainly is doomed to defeat since it is virtually unthinkable that the delegates would go to the trouble and expense of journeying to Worcester and then deny themselves their principal function. If they should do so, it would mean that Republican Governor Herter would designate the Democratic Presidential electors, a situation that would be without precedent in political history.

A move also may be made for the adoption of a loyalty oath which would require those candidates who submit themselves to the convention as aspirants for endorsements to abide by the decision of the conclave. Such a motion, if it is offered, would touch off a prolonged and bitter dispute. In all probability, it would be opposed by the supporters of Furcolo and Kennedy, both of whom presumably would withdraw from the convention if such a rule were adopted. Any such development could make a shambles of the convention.

Except for the support Congressman McCormack is giving his nephew, Councillor McCormack, there is no evidence that the top Democratic leaders in the State are taking any part in the fights for endorsements.

Mayor Hynes was not invited to the convention and will not attend it. Ordinarily, it would be expected that the Mayor of the capital city of the Commonwealth would be asked to speak in some role at the conclave. No invitation of any kind was extended to Hynes. A safe prediction would be that the same politicians who ignored him this week will be criticizing him next autumn for not taking a greater part in Democratic affairs.

Ex-Governor Dever also will remain away from the convention. Two years ago, he was accused of pulling the rug on McDonough and setting the stage for the nomination of Murphy. This time he won't go within 40 miles of Worcester.

The only top Democratic figure who will be at the convention scene will be Senator John F. Kenney who is now the top Democratic boss in the State and is the man the party faithful are expecting to lead them to a victory next November, although he himself will not be on the ballot.

Kennedy now occupies the role that ex-Governor Dever held for some years in Massachusetts. He will introduce Connecticut's Governor Ribicoff who will deliver the keynote speech Friday night.

A long-range guess as to the ticket the Democratic State convention will endorse would be as follows: Patrick J. McDonough for Governor, George A. Wells for Lieutenant Governor, Edward J. Cronin for Secretary of State and Thomas J. Buckley for State Auditor. But the only real safe predictions involve Buckley and Cronin. The other candidates may be treading on some slippery political rugs in Worcester on Friday and Saturday.

Guided Missives . . .

NOT AS A STRANGER: After a Memorial Day in the country with hundreds of other motorists who didn't know their directions either, we have come up with an idea to make driving easier for the innocent driver abroad. It's always appeared to us that on a strange road the signs at important intersections shrink, and we spend what seems like hours squinting at strange signs clustered on one pole. And, of course, the toots of the knowledgeable motorists behind us do not make our search any easier.

Our suggestion is to do away with those clusters. At intersections, cutoffs, forks and other traps, why not try something like the old Burma Shave sign? Like this. As you approach an intersection, the first sign: NEWTON—R. Next sign: WATERTOWN—R. Next: BRIGHTON—L. And: WELLESLEY—L. Four signs, and a moment to grasp each, making it much easier to take the right turn . . . like a native and not as a stranger. Well?

WATER LANDS: Something specific in the way of plans for the so-called Needham water lands can be expected to be made public before the first week in July.

OUT OF THIS WORLD: Newton police who heard Rev. Marcellus White, Waltham priest, tell of his two-and-a-half years as prisoner of the Chinese Reds say the story is incredible. He was the guest speaker at the 19th annual memorial service and communion breakfast of the Newton Police Association Sunday.

ALWAYS A FUTURE: It is typical of Raymond Blaisdell who has just retired as principal of Weeks Junior High School that even retirement means looking to the future. . . . this time as lecturer in education at the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Looking back over his 21 years as principal there are many "firsts" that attest to his concern for the future. And they were "firsts," not with the idea of impressing educators and public but seemed to grow out of what Blaisdell regarded as a need that must be met.

For example, there was his idea from the start that teachers should participate more in policy-making decisions. The co-operative staff effort that he encouraged kept morale high and, staff members agreed, improved school standards. It was considered unusual at the time.

So, too, was the decision to start classes at 9 a. m. so that teachers might have their conference before school, leaving after-school hours for student needs . . . and eventually for more parent-teacher conferences.

Again, there was much nodding of heads when he stuck to his guns on his concept of a good teacher. He felt that inexperienced young people, if intellectually able and well-balanced, could be developed into good teachers with careful, sympathetic guidance and in-service training.

The result? When the Harvard Graduate School of Education sought a director for its summer program for training liberal arts graduates as teachers, Blaisdell was the natural choice. It fitted right in with his . . . and Harvard's

THEY'RE OFF: Look for Senator Lee to come up with a state job at the end of this session. Friends of both men have been working for some time to get such a position for either Lee or Representative Rawson to lessen the ill effects that a GOP primary fight in the Fourth Middlesex District in the House could breed.

Lee's withdrawal opens the way for Rep. Donald L. Gibbs who has been peering anxiously at Senate-ward since succeeding to Christian A. Herter, Jr.'s seat in the House in December 1953. It leaves Rawson and Alderman John S. Whittemore running against the Democratic candidates for the House, as yet unannounced.

On the Democratic side a real primary fight for the Senatorial nomination is shaping up. Alderman Leo M. Cannon will again seek the seat that just eluded him in 1954. He is opposed already by Robert W. Gallagher of Newton, an oil dealer and John Mella of Brighton.

Lee's reason for retiring was the excessive length of legislative sessions since he first went to the Senate in 1946, a fact that makes an attorney find it hard to pursue his own profession.

There is no doubt a good deal to that assertion. And not to be forgotten are Lee's "loner" stands on some issues, notably on easing of the drivers' point system. This took courage but it also made for discontented voters, a fact Lee recognized.

Lee probably also recognized the changing vote for Senator in Newton. Beginning in 1946, he had always gone out of Newton anywhere from 14,000 to 20,000 ahead. (In 1946, with no opposition, he polled 31,285 votes in Newton alone.) This was always enough to cut down the Democratic majorities in Cambridge Ward 5 and Boston Ward 22.

In 1954 when he edged Cannon by 1215 votes overall, he left Newton with only a 7666-vote margin. This year, with the vigorous Democratic registration drive on in the district, he might have found his Newton margin too small to carry the day.

As it becomes more fashionable to vote Democratic in Newton, more "independents" can be expected to cast a vote for a Democratic candidate for state office.

Lee-

In announcing his decision to seek the Republican nomination for the Senate, Rep. Gibbs stated: "In view of Senator Lee's recent announcement that he will not be a candidate for re-election as Senator from the Middlesex and Suffolk district, this has naturally changed my plans, for I have on many occasions stated that should the Senator withdraw, I would then seek this office."

Continuing Gibbs said: "I am pleased to inform the citizens of our city of Newton, Ward 22 of Brighton and Ward 5 of Cambridge which comprises the Middlesex-Suffolk District that I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for this office of State Senator."

"It has been my pleasure to serve the residents of Newton for nine years on our Board of Aldermen, and am now completing my third year as Representative to the General Court. I look forward, with much interest, to this wider opportunity of serving the people of this Senatorial district."

Already, Robert W. Gallagher of West Newton, has announced his intention to seek the Democratic nomination for the Senate seat.

Back in 1954 Lee was quoted as saying, after his close victory over Leo Cannon of Newton, that he did not expect to run again in 1956. Lee stated in April of this year, however, that his statement then was based on his expectation that Atty. Gen. George Fingold would not be running this year. Apparently Lee was courting then with the idea of seeking the Republican nomination for Attorney General but since Fingold is now an avowed candidate for re-election this year, contesting for that office is now out of the question.

However, in his statement last week, the Senator gives as his reason for not seeking re-election the fact that legislative sessions have become increasingly long during his ten years in office and that "this long duration, coupled with frequent night sessions, makes it impossible for business and professional men, who are dependent upon their jobs for a living, to remain in the legislature."

Lee's declaration last week not to seek re-election now complicates the local Republican picture. Already two of the four Republican Representatives from this city, have declared their intention of seeking re-election to their respective offices this Fall. George E. Rawson, the fourth of the quartet has not, as yet, made any public announcement of his future intentions. In addition to the two Republican Representatives who have already declared themselves, Aldermen John W. Whitmore of Newtonville some weeks ago announced his intention of seeking one of the two House seats in the Fourth Middlesex District.

Representative Donald L. Gibbs in April was flirting with the idea of becoming a candidate for the Senate but only if Senator Lee did not seek re-election. Now that Lee has definitely declared his intentions not to seek re-election, Gibbs has decided to go after the Republican nomination for the Senate seat.

But the whole senatorial picture in this district has now changed with Senator Lee's announcement. Will other Republican aspirants in addition to Gibbs go after the nomination for Senator? Until the issue becomes more clearly defined, the Republican picture at the moment becomes slightly jumbled.

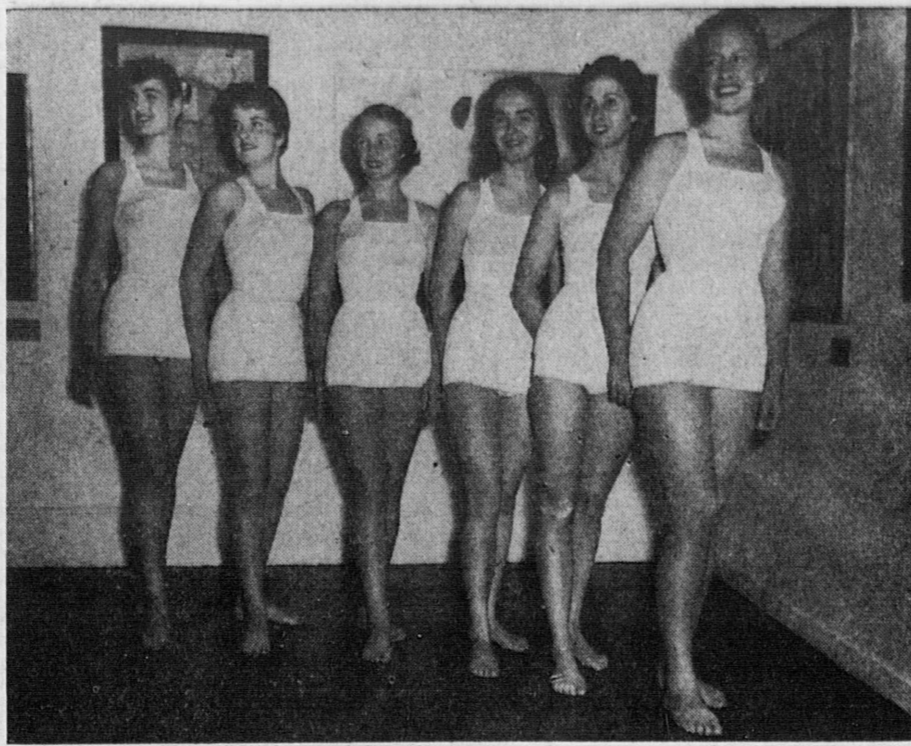

However, Lee's announcement will not cause the Democrats here to shed any tears and will give them renewed confidence that for the first time in history, their party may stand a chance to annex victory in the Senate contest. Two years ago, Senator Lee won re-election over Alderman Leo Cannon by only a few hundred votes and in the five contests in which Lee had engaged for the Senate that contest proved to be the closest he came to losing the seat. Now that he has retired from the field, the Democrats here can be expected to exert renewed vigor to capture this Senate seat in a traditionally Republican district. Unquestionably they will make every effort to put their party nominee over and Gallagher, already in the field for the nomination, would appear to have the jump on any other likely aspirants. He has been a member of the Jefferson Jackson Day Dinner Committee since its inception; has been an active worker for the Democratic party for the past 20 years; and for six years was an attaché in the House of Representatives; and for two years secretary in the Governor's office. He will make a strong bid for the nomination.

In making his announcement this week Senator Lee stated: "I have decided not to run for re-election to the Massachusetts Senate. I am completing my tenth year since I was first sworn into office by Governor Tobin in January 1947. During that time, the legislative sessions have increased in length. They once ran from January through May. The first year I was there, we prorogued at the end of June, and there were many complaints about the length of the session. In 1951 the legislature was in session until November 17th, and in the other years it continued well into the summer.

"This long duration, coupled with frequent night sessions, makes it impossible for business and professional men, who are dependent upon their jobs for a living, to remain in the legislature. Already this year, two very valuable Senators, Henry Glovsky, a lawyer, and George Evans, a businessman, have announced their retirement to attend to their occupations.

"The extreme length of the session cannot be blamed solely upon Massachusetts' constitutional right of free petition. This encourages more bills to be filed in Massachusetts than in many of her sister states, but even so, the sessions could be drastically shortened if the legislative leaders would enforce the rules and discourage dilatory tactics. As it is, the General Court purports to hasten through its work with all the zeal of Penelope weaving her scarf.

"The General Court has made numerous advances and improvements in our laws during the decade just past, and has avoided many extreme and bureaucratic developments. In the field of criminal law, the Department of Correction has been strengthened and juries have been given power to recommend clemency in murder cases. An integrated master highway system has been mapped out and is well on the way to accomplishment. Rules of the road have been revised to assist interstate traffic. The legislators, however, have retreated from their 1954 proposal to assess heavier insurance rates upon motorists who violate the law of the road. Until this is done, the slaughter on the highways will continue unchecked. In workmen's compensation, we have avoided a socialistic state fund. In the field of taxation, the department has been reorganized and modernized, but the General Court has been timid about badly needed fundamental changes in tax revenue and in revising state aid to cities and towns. A majority of the legislators privately agree that a sales tax is necessary to the solution of the problem, but they are unwilling to vote it at the present time. In the field of pensions, the legislature has been too generous to some organized groups and perhaps niggardly to others. It will take great willpower to cut back on the over-generous allowances, but if that is not done, a terrific burden will soon be thrust upon the taxpayers of the state. Fundamental improvements in our court system are still awaiting approval.

"Over the years, it has seemed to me that I have had to say 'No' to the proposals of almost every group in the district, when I believed that the public interest as a whole would not be served by a bill which they wanted. From time to time I have been given credit for some achievement in which I had no part, and at other times been blamed for laws that I had opposed. These were exceptions rather than the rule. I have been encouraged by the loyal support of thousands of constituents, many of whom I know only slightly if at all. They have appreciated the fact that I was trying to look out for their interests, and I am grateful for the confidence which they demonstrated.

"I feel sure that the seat will remain in the Republican column next year."

Russell M. Hutchins of 236 Auburndale avenue, Auburndale, received his Armor commission last Sunday at exercises held at the University of Massachusetts.

Hailer is a graduate of Brown University, prepared for a public career by studying at the Harvard University School of Government and Public Administration and is a member of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. In private life he is in the insurance business in Roslindale.

He is a member of the American Legion, the Disabled American Veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Amvets, the John J. Williams Council of the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Alumni Sodality.

In the April Presidential primary he was elected a delegate to the Democratic national convention from the Curtis district. Back through the years he has been closely associated politically with Mayor John B. Hynes, the late Maurice J. Tobin, Senator John F. Kennedy and Congressional Majority Leader John W. McCormack.

Hailer is an army combat veteran of World War II, where he served in the South Pacific, is married and the father of four small children. He declared today that he made his decision to enter the congressional contest after an extensive survey had convinced him he can win election in November.

He said that after polling a record-breaking number of votes for a Democratic congressional nominee in 1952 but encountering defeat as a result of the Republican trend which prevailed at the time, he agreed to stand aside two years ago and permit Jackson J. Holtz of Brookline to have the Democratic nomination and make the fight against Congressman Curtis.

Despite a Democratic groundswell which enabled the Democratic party to regain control of the Massachusetts House of Representatives and capture a seat in Congress from another district in the State, which it had never won before, Holtz was unsuccessful in his bid, Hailer stated.

Hailer expressed the opinion that he could have been elected if he had run under the conditions which existed in 1954, when Holtz was the nominee.

"I am convinced that I can give the people of the 10th district a higher standard of service in the United States Congress and more closely reflect their sentiments on the important issues to come before that body than any other candidate in the field. It is my opinion that the present Congressman does not represent a majority of the people in the district.

Sports-

Simmons pointed out that intramural sports now compete for space in the schools' gymnasiums and playgrounds with music or dancing classes or with Little Leagues.

While not criticizing any of these activities, Simmons stressed the need for an organized effort to provide competitive sports for the child who does not make the school teams. He also pointed out that lack of personnel trained or interested in such work is holding such a program back.

Except during the Winter, he said, there is no one in charge of such a program.

To meet this problem Simmons suggested that a full-time intra-mural instructor be hired. Simmons would like to see that every elementary school in the city has one faculty member capable of coaching athletics or at least one in every two schools.

He pointed out that some principals are opposed to an athletic program in the schools. Simmons would like to see that conduct intramural athletics five days a week, but finds it "physically impossible with present facilities."

Newton schools have required periods of physical education instruction, but intramural sports are voluntary and regarded as a "laboratory for practice of the knowledge and skills taught in the required classes."

He argued that alcoholism and delinquency can be checked through athletics, and mental and emotional disorders reduced.

This country, Simmons declared, is a victim of "spectatoritis," and that the average youngster spends 24 hours per week at the television set.

Provision for 40 more parking spaces in the Newtonville off-street parking lot is assured, probably this Summer.

This became certain as the Board of Aldermen approved the matter this week and then discovered that $12,000 needed for the project had already been appropriated—last year.

Funds-

struction of the building is expected to be about $304,000. A contract will be awarded this week and construction will begin with the closing of school later this month.

Complicating the request for the Mason-Rice funds is the fact that it does not fall under the heading of correcting overcrowded conditions which, up until now, has had priority in the Newton school building program.

Special factors, according to Mason-Rice parents make this school a special case, however. These include:

1. Necessity to escape the traffic hazard at the Mason School.

2. Need to eliminate Rice, the last wooden building in the system. It was built in 1871.

3. Opportunity to sell the sites and partially finance the cost of the new building. The opportunity for this is now, residents say.

4. Need to provide more land around the schools. There is insufficient play area around both schools now.

The city is still in the process of taking care of overcrowded areas. The Ward and Cabot schools will receive additions this Summer and there is the new South Side high school to be built. After that will come upgrading of several old schools which are not overcrowded.

W. N. Savings Bank To Open Wayland Branch

The West Newton Savings Bank expects to open its new Wayland branch about the last week in June according to officers of the Bank.

Remodelling of the building at 19 Pelham Island road, Wayland has been under way since February and is now nearing completion. The building to be occupied by the Bank was one of the first brick school houses in the town of Wayland and was built in 1808 according to historical records.

Interior and exterior renovation of the building has been done in a manner calculated to retain the colonial lines of the structure and in keeping with the historical significance of the premises.

The West Newton Savings Bank was incorporated in 1887 and now has assets in excess of $20,000,000. With the opening of the Wayland office, residents of Wayland and surrounding towns will have the opportunity to enjoy thrift facilities provided by a strong, well established mutual savings bank with many years of experience.

Mutual savings banks in Massachusetts have no stockholders and all earnings are distributed to depositors after provision for expenses and proper reserves. The West Newton Savings Bank is currently paying a dividend of 3% and depositors accounts are insured in full under Massachusetts laws.

When the Wayland office of West Newton Savings Bank is opened, the staff will include Mr. Jackson Turner, Manager, and Miss Judy Hollis and Miss Janet Shepard, Tellers. All are residents of Wayland.

Other local people connected with the Bank are Mr. Roland F. Gammons, Chairman of the Board, who has made his home in Wayland for a number of years; and Mr. Cornelius J. Maguire, Mr. Walter B. Parker, Jr. and Mr. William A. Waldron, Corporators of West Newton Savings Bank, who will serve as an advisory committee for the new Wayland office.

The NBC daytime Matinee Theatre shows are becoming a proving ground for young actors and actresses. Pretty Karen Sharpe, who is under contract to John Wayne and has appeared in several of his movies, qualifies as the veteran of the show. She has already started in the first episode of her new "Oh, Susanna" series and it has been snapped up by Nestle's for showing Saturday nights at nine right after the new Jackie Gleason hour.

Vic Damone will do a singing replacement for the December Bride series this summer. Bobby sox rager Elvis Presley will be his first guest. Kaiser Aluminum will help brighten the summer TV fare by dropping $4,000,000 into a series of hour-long plays debuting July 3 on NBC.

Religion is Making A Vital Contribution to Health Carey States In Lecture

Practical application of scientific Christianity is making a vital contribution to public health and well-being, said Archibald Carey of Detroit, Michigan, in a lecture here last Sunday, June 3.

Through spiritual understanding of God, as taught and practiced by Christ Jesus, men and women are today healing sickness and helping to meet other everyday problems for themselves and others, Mr. Carey declared.

A member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Carey spoke in the church edifice, 391 Walnut street, Newtonville, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton. He was introduced by Mrs. Marshall W. Reading, Second Reader.

Speaking on the subject "Christian Science: How God Heals," Mr. Carey said that if every individual could be taught to maintain his own individual immunity to disease, public health problems would be solved.

"Think what a contribution to public health Jesus made, not only by maintaining his complete immunity to disease, but also by enabling his disciples to acquire this same immunity and to share it with others," he declared.

Actual examples of the availability today of divine healing were cited by the lecturer, including complete and permanent recovery from heart disease said to be incurable, paralysis, and invalidism.

"Christian Scientists are deeply interested in public health as well as individual health, and are making an outstanding contribution to both," he declared.

Healing sickness and avoiding disease are a part of a Christian Scientist's religion, he explained. He said that the Christian Scientist is conscientious in protecting public health and in obeying the Golden Rule and the laws of the land by reporting specified diseases to the health authorities and obeying quarantine regulations, he added.

Complete faith in God, divine Life, Truth, and Love—and an understanding of his power and presence—is the key to the healing of sickness and the solution of problems of every kind, he said.

Blind faith in God, he warned, may result in disillusionment and disappointment. "As we learn to understand the nature of God, and apply this understanding to the solution of our daily problems, this brings complete faith in God and in the operation of His laws," he declared.

Commenting on man's relation to God, the lecturer noted that the Bible refers to man as the image and likeness of God, spirit. So the real man, he said, instead of being a physical body, is mental, a spiritual idea.

As the image and likeness of God, man is incorporeal, he said, adding that man's true identity is "not dependent upon a physical body, but, on the contrary, the body is controlled by thought."

"As we allow God to govern our thought," he added, "this brings healing."

To illustrate God's healing power, Mr. Carey told how a more spiritual understanding of God brought both a better character and better health to a man who had been an invalid for many years. He was restored to health and strength, he related, as he "constantly endeavored to entertain only thoughts that had their origin in God and to detect and reject any thought that was un-Godlike."

All disease and deformity are the result of mistaken, erroneous thought expressed by the body in ill-health, according to the lecturer.

He described Christian Science treatment as the "utilization of the power of Truth over error to heal sickness, to solve human problems." This method of healing uses only the power of God, Truth, over error and is entirely different from psychotherapy, psychosomatic medicine or "any system that is based on the assumption that the body controls man," he maintained.

Mr. Carey told of a man who had been rejected for life insurance because the medical examination showed that he had incurable heart disease. He then had Christian Science treatment, he related, noting that as he learned more about God's healing power his fear lessened.

"Minute by minute," he said, "he watched his own thought to be sure he was not accepting mistaken un-Godlike thought, but was gratefully responding to the intelligent thoughts that constantly come to man from infinite Mind, God."

He lost all fear of the disease and decided to apply to the same company for life insurance, he continued. "After a thorough physical examination, he was accepted," he said, adding that "God's way of healing had proved its power."

Learning about the power of God and how to respond to it brings solution to family, business, character, and other everyday problems as well as the healing of ailments of every kind.

Through scientific prayer "sickness is healed, poverty and lack of opportunity give way to abundance and progress, difficult business and home conditions are replaced by co-operation and appreciation," he declared.

The most important fact in healing physical disorders of the body, he maintained, is prayer.

The healing prayer of Christian Science, is not merely asking God for something desirable, he said. "It is listening to God to receive the right ideas which he always has ready for us."

"As we develop our ability to listen to God, we receive from His infinite wisdom and love the right ideas that enable us to recognize and accept the opportunities that are always waiting to bring us the complete healing and happiness which He designs for His children," he declared.

Commenting on the vital importance of Bible study today, Mr. Carey said that many "successful and happy people have found that the Bible is a trustworthy guide along the road of life—a guide which enables us to choose the paths that lead to health, peace, and security."

He added that the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is helping thousands to learn the truth from the Bible that they could without the aid of this key.

The availability of God's power was repeatedly emphasized by the lecturer. Among the citations he quoted in support of this was the following passage from Science and Health (p. x1): "The physical healing of Christian Science results now, as in Jesus' time, from the operation of divine Principle, before which sin and disease lose their reality in human consciousness and disappear as naturally and as necessarily as darkness gives place to light and sin to reformation. Now, as then, these mighty works are not supernatural, but supremely natural."

He also quoted the following passage from Science and Health (p. x2): "The physical healing of Christian Science results now, as in Jesus' time, from the operation of divine Principle, before which sin and disease lose their reality in human consciousness and disappear as naturally and as necessarily as darkness gives place to light and sin to reformation. Now, as then, these mighty works are not supernatural, but supremely natural."

Lasell Junior College Class Largest In 105-Year History

Lasell Junior College will graduate the largest senior class in its 105-year history at commencement exercises to be held this coming Sunday morning at 11 on the College Recreation Field.

Speaker for the 286 members of the Class of 1956 will be Francis Keppel, Dean of the Faculty of Education of Harvard University. A graduate of Harvard College in 1938, Dean Keppel began his advanced studies at the American Academy in Rome, after which he returned to his Alma Mater for further graduate work in the history and philosophy of education, which is now his special field.

From 1941 to 1944 Dean Keppel was in Washington, D. C., where he served as Secretary of the Joint Army and Navy Committee on Welfare and Recreation in the Office of the Secretary of War, followed by two years with the Information and Education Division of the U. S. Army.

At the end of the Second World War, Dean Keppel returned to Harvard, this time as Assistant to the Provost. He received his present appointment in 1948. A member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Delta Kappa, he also holds membership in the American Association of School Administrators and the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards of the N. E. A. His most recent public service was to function on the sub-committee of the White House Conference on Education this past winter.

Local girls who will receive Lasell diplomas on Sunday include Janet Battles and Judith Berger, Chestnut Hill; Louise Bernson, Beverly Breed, and Priscilla Broad, Newton Highlands; Nancy Bumpus, Newtonville; Beverly Fleischer, Newton Centre; Doris Geer, Auburndale; Elizabeth Larabee, West Newton; Elaine Montgomery, Newtonville; Nancy Nash, Newton Centre; Carolee Scribner, Auburndale; Audrey Smith, Newtonville; Nancy Tutill, Auburndale; Barbara Wegner, Chestnut Hill; and Nancy Ziman, Newton Centre.

Commencement exercises are open to the public, weather permitting. In the event of rain, admission to Winslow Hall will be by ticket only.

Good Way to End School Year

If the School Board has its way, city pupils will get a five-day "holiday bonus" at the end of the school year next month.

The board has asked the State Department of Education to allow it to waive the five days lost due to the polio epidemic last Fall. According to law the city must have 180 days of school. Newton has not. Seventy communities already have asked and received this waiver, so it's a pretty good bet Newton will get it, too.

Aldermen Create Zone Appeal Unit

For the first time in more than 30 years of zoning, the city will have a zoning appeals board. It still does not have a zoning board as such.

The Board of Aldermen voted Monday to separate the zoning and building appeals functions of the Building Appeals Board, with the creation of a zoning appeals board the result.

The Board of Aldermen will continue to serve as the zoning board, although observers point out that the Zoning Appeals Board may hear zoning cases as a zoning board, without prior hearing by the Aldermen.

Chairman William R. Mattson of the Claims and Rules Committee pointed out that the 41 will mean several appointments in the near future.

Reappointment of Robert C. Casselman of 24 Hawthorne avenue to the Board of Appeals, Building Laws, for one year beginning July 20 was approved.

Building Pleas Began in 1921

Charles Richter, assistant superintendent of the Newton Public Schools, traced the history of requests for a new Mason-Rice school building at the Mason-Rice PTA meeting last week. Beginning in 1921 the Mason-Rice PTA suggested the need for replacement of the Rice School, the only all-frame school building in the city, he reported.

Walter P. Muther, newly elected president of the PTA, pledged himself to keep parents informed of progress toward the new building.

"Dollar Dinginess" Held School Peril

The state must tap a richer financial vein to escape "dollar dinginess" in its local public school systems, Newton School Committeeman Haskell Freedman declared this week.

Returning from the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Association of School Committees in Chatham where he was elected first vice president, Freedman pointed out:

"Every conscientious community is right in the middle now on education. If it tries to better... or even continue its school program, it must squeeze a little tighter the real property owner who is being asked to go the limit for all sorts of necessary improvements in government."

"The answer has got to be greater state aid for local educational plants, but even this means greater pressure on real property taxpayers unless some new revenue source is found."

If the local communities are forced to curtail spending on education, he continued, the alternative is "dollar dinginess... sacrificing quality in education for practical nonsense."

This was the greatest "unsolved problem" faced at the Chatham meeting, and the convention asked the General Court to vote a one percent sales tax for education to meet this need.

"But a general resolution can accomplish little," said Freedman who pointed out that the

Aqueduct Area Assured by City; Sewer Entails No Major Changes

City authorities assured residents along the Cochituate Aqueduct right of way that there would be no major inconvenience in the city's taking over of that route for a common drain and sewer.

Public Works Commissioner Willard Pratt and Edwin A. Terkelsen, chairman of the Aldermanic Public Works Committee, assured major objections that there would be no blasting, extra land-taking nor destruction of the physical lines of the aqueduct involved in the city project.

It is hoped that the project which would save the city about $1 million in sewer costs can be started around August 1 and completed by Spring 1958, if the Aldermen approve it at the June meeting.

Members of the Waban Improvement Society challenged the $1 million saving claim, stating that the "tortuous route" might in the end prove more costly than a direct line under existing streets.

They also demanded assurance that the line would take care of future growth in the area, would guard against costly leakage into adjacent cellars. Construction of a pump-

Patrolman Bound Over on Temple Shooting

Patrolman James J. Howley, 52, of 24 Kendall road, Centre, will have a hearing in Middlesex Superior Court later this month on charges growing out of the shooting of a caterer's helper at the Temple Emanuel last month.

Judge Donald Mayberry found "probable cause" in Newton District Court Monday and Howley's attorney, Michael Prendergast said he waived grand jury action and would seek a speedy arraignment. Bail of $10,000 was continued.

George L. Weinbaum of 123 Truman road, Centre, described the alleged assault at Monday's hearing.

He said he was bandaging Howley's injuries sustained when the officer had a fall on the property when Howley suddenly broke away and fired his revolver, striking Amos Rawls, 21, of 80 Walnut park, Roxbury, in the thigh.

Weinbaum said he was bandaging the officer's head when the alleged incident took place. He then helped disarm Howley, he told the court.

Howley has been suspended from the force pending outcome of the trial or a hearing which he may request of Chief Philip Purcell and Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr.

Others who testified were Robert A. Frye, of the City Engineer's office, Sumner L. Patichell, another guest; Harold L. Kravitz of 1443 Beacon street, Brookline, the caterer; Charles Winston of 70 Dale street, Roxbury, the caterer's supervisor; Jacob Wax, a photographer.

Also, Inspector Charles W. Lynch, James Todd of 23 Ridgeview avenue, Mattapan, caterer's assistant; Patrolman Edward J. Foley, Jr., Lt. George W. O'Neill, Capt. Charles E. Walker, Sgt. John W. Foley, Jr., and Sgt. Bartlett Cullen. Patrolman Howley also testified in his own behalf.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Democratic Convention Produced Unlimited Bitterness:
Coming Republican Convention Expected to Be Routine.

About the only thing that the Democratic State convention in Worcester last weekend really accomplished was to eliminate Executive Councillor Patrick J. McDonough as a candidate for Governor and to produce bitterness in almost unlimited quantities.

Except for McDonough, virtually every candidate defeated at the Democratic assembly indicated that they would pay no attention to the decisions of the conclave and would carry their fights to the voters in the primary next September.

The Republican convention in Worcester on Saturday will be cut and dried and will see only two contests for places on the GOP State ticket. While it also may generate some ill will before it is concluded, that will not be as readily apparent to the general public.

A striking contrast in the two brands of discipline in the rival political parties, however, will be obvious after they have held their State conventions on successive weekends.

The candidates defeated at the coming GOP State convention will fold up their campaigns for State offices and withdraw from the the contests in which they have been running. To do otherwise would be to sign their own political death warrants.

But Watch Your Step...

Newton Safest City in U.S. for Pedestrians

Newton topped all cities in the United States with its pedestrian safety program last year, it was announced this week.

The figures show that the city moved from 70th in its under-100,000 class in 1954 to the top in one year.

In doing so Newton won the first prize and grand award of the American Automobile Protection Contest.

The AAA praised the city's periodic checkups and constant supervision of pedestrian safety controls as factors in the city's improvement.

There was only one pedestrian death and 72 pedestrian injuries in the period covered as compared with three deaths and 85 injuries in 1954.

"Newton's low death rate of 1.2 per 100,000 compared to a 3.9 death rate for all 88 cities in its group is due to the great reduction in pedestrian deaths over the previous two years," the contest judges reported.

The AAA paid special tribute to the city's school safety program, its supervision of safety education in the schools and playgrounds and its studies.

"Newton's School Safety Program was strong, showing 93 per cent of the schools with School Safety Patrols and 60 per cent of the high schools giving both classroom instruction and behind-the-wheel practice driving in Driver Education."

Is Definitely A Candidate for Reelection Again

The statement in last Thursday's Graphic that Representative George E. Rawson of Newton had not yet announced his candidacy for reelection as Representative from the Fourth Middlesex district is in error.

He made the announcement in April that he would be a candidate and The Graphic carried the announcement in the issue of April 26.

Rawson's nomination papers have been in circulation since May 15 and he is confident that he will merit and receive the same fine support which Newton people have always given him so generously.

Martin Expects Inquest Into 'Flagrant Mistake'

Middlesex Dist. Atty. Enghram Martin is expected to seek an inquest into the two "poison deaths" Sunday at Newton-Wellesley Hospital upon completion of a state-local investigation sometime today.

Martin said there was evidence of a "flagrant mistake" at the hospital and said the inquest in Newton District Court would be called to determine whether or not there had been a "criminal offense or offenses" committed.

Meanwhile hospital officials have transferred to another department an employee of the institution's pharmacy department whose "conduct may become an issue."

Newton Police Chief Philip Purcell is cooperating with Martin's office in the probe. Lt. John N. McMullen of Newton and State Police Sgt. George Nickerson of Martin's office are in charge of the investigation.

The poison victims are: Mrs. Marion duMont, 55, of 40 Glenley street, Brighton and Gordon M. McMullen, 53, of 30 Oak terrace, Highlands.

Robert duMont, Newtonville auto dealer, was forced to stand by helpless as his wife died in agony within a half hour of taking the concoction she was told was to prepare her for X-rays.

Another mistake almost led to a hypodermic injection an hour or so before, her husband said.

Instead, the clear liquid contained deadly sodium nitrite, one of the chemicals used to cleanse surgical instruments and prevent their rusting.

Evidence of the sodium nitrite was found in the stomachs of both victims in a medical examination performed by Dr. Michael Luongo, acting medical examiner.

BRUCE DOW

More than 60 Newton High seniors, recipients of special prizes, awards and scholarships, were honored at the commencement exercises at Dickinson Memorial Stadium last Saturday.

Taking note of the high standards of scholarship, of this class of 790, Dr. Leo Barry, principal, said:

"May your contributions to your society and your time match the contributions you have made to your school. No one could ask for more."

In his address, Dr. Barry noted the many triumphs of the last three years—academic achievements, scholarships and national prizes, the successful Kenyon experiment—suburban and state athletic victories, the new constitution and countless individual attainments in class and extra-class activities—and added:

"They represent some of the readily identifiable, easily recorded highlights. Behind the story and events stand the people, the friendships and relationships, the influences and the attitudes, the beliefs and spirit which made possible the success of the events. It is in this latter and far more meaningful category that the class of 1956 truly earned a salute."

Tigers Score Impressive 10-2 Victory Over English

The Newton Tigers got things rolling with an impressive 10-2 victory over Boston English, and moved into the second round of the baseball tourney. A twelve hit attack, plus a brilliant job of fielding by shortstop Bobby DelGizzi were the key factors in the Orange and Black victory over the runners up of the Boston Conference league.

Howie Whitmore drew the starting pitcher, but wasn't around very long. English's Devereaux walked, and after Hill fled out, Schettini ripped a clean single. Another walk loaded up the bases, and when Whitmore walked in the first run of the game, in came Dave Kirby. Kirby has seen limited action this season, but didn't look it in this game. He fanned the next two batters to get out of the inning, and fanned the first batter to face him in the second. He walked the opposing hurler, but a line drive to DelGizzi was converted into a fast double play. The English ace wasn't around too long either, as the Tigers opened up from the beginning. With two out and the bases clear, Martin singled and moved to second on Halloran's base hit. O'Laughlin kept things rolling with a hit, and Beggs lined a single, for the fourth straight Newton hit. Connerney clouted a tremendous double, and that was it for the English hurler. John Hurley came in and did a good job for English, but it was much too late. A walk to Bergman loaded up the bases, and all runners moved up on a passed ball which allowed Beggs to score. Whitmore grounded a single to bat in two more runs, and DelGizzi walked, setting the stage for a Keyes single. Martin popped out to end the frantic inning, but when the dust had cleared the Tigers had scored seven big runs on seven base hits. Dave Hill led it off with a single, and moved to second when Dick Schettini drew a walk. Left fielder Bob LeBlanc then lined a bullet to the hole between short and third. DelGizzi speared it for a beautiful play, and flipped to Keyes at second for the second out. Keyes relayed to Halloran and caught Schettino way off base to complete the triple play.

Once more in the fifth, English hit Kirby hard, and this time Dana Johnson relieved him. A single, wild pitch and

Barrage of Extra Base Hits Gives Tigers Win

A barrage of extra base hits, and strong pitching, led the Tigers to another play-off victory over the Boston Conference Champs, Dorchester, at Victory Field in Watertown. Al Martin, the classy junior moundsman, opened on the hill for the Tigers and allowed but one earned run in the five and one-third innings he toiled. A fine lefty sophomore from Dorchester, Charlie Bunker, worked for the Boston boys, and after the game Newton's Coach Ferguson called him the finest sophomore left-hander he had ever seen.

Dorchester hopped on Martin in the first for one run. Mansfield walked and was sacrificed to second by the third baseman Campana. Purcell drilled one into the hole at shortstop, and although DelGizzi dug it out of the dirt, his throw was late and they both were safe. Pettiti whacked a smash right at Halloran and Russ fired to home for the force out. But Devins lined a clean single through the infield to give Dorchester the lead. Al then settled down to set them down in order for the next two frames. Newton was having their troubles with Bunker, and although they had hits in each of the first three innings, they left the runners stranded.

A base on balls, a sacrifice, and two Tiger errors gave Dorchester a two run lead, and things looked tough for the fighting Orange. They got one back in the fourth, with Martin walking. He was forced at second on a grounder by Halloran, and O'Laughlin fanned. Then came the disputed play of the game. Beggs unloaded for his second extra-base hit of the game, and circled the bases for a supposed home run, but the Dorchester boys went racing after the ball, stepped on third and issued their plea to the umpire that Beggs had missed third base. The umpire called him out and therefore but one run scored. The Tigers came pounding off the bench, and put up a determined but losing argument. Third base coach, Dana Johnson, was positive that Beggs ticked the outer edge of the bag, as he raced by, but it was all to no avail, for the decision stood.

With one out and a runner on first as result of a Newton error, Pettiti lined a clean single, and this was all for Martin. Once again the flashy hurler had turned in a fine performance. Halloran took over for the Tigers, and did just that; he took over. He whirled after two pitches, and fired to Bobby DelGizzi and picked the runner off second. Four pitches fanned Devins and that was the frame. The side went down on strikes in the seventh, as the hitters stared in amazement at Halloran's hopping fast ball and breaking curve.

In the Boston league, they play seven inning games, and about this time the Tigers expected Bunker to weaken and he did.

Beggs reached on a bad throw and Connerney rifled a hot shot right over the third base bag and ended up on second base, with a run producing double. After Bergman had popped out, and Colletto struck out, Bobby DelGizzi came through with his third hit of the game, by singling through the infield. The fighting Orange wrapped up the game in the eighth, and batted Bunker off the hill. Martin belted a tremendous double, and scored on a savage triple off the bat of Halloran. O'Laughlin kept up this extra base hit barrage, by doubling in Halloran. Beggs lined a single, and before the five run rally was over, Colletto had singled, and DelGizzi came through with his fourth hit of the day with a zinging double.

Halloran fanned two of the first three batters in the ninth and the last batter bounced out feebly to the mound. Martin and Halloran combined to fire a flashy three hitter, and the Tigers continue to move. The Orange and Black good luck charm of Mrs. Connerney, who attends all the Tigers games, continues to work and combined with their fine play has boosted the Tigers into the finals of the Eastern Mass. Tourney. Newton will meet Everett, for the finals, and a victory here will send them to Holyoke for the State Championship game.

Of the ten batters that faced Halloran, eight of them went down on strikes, and also impressive was the savage hitting of Johnny Beggs and Bobby DelGizzi, who has come into his own during the playoffs with a glue-like glove and a red hot bat.

Tigers Move Into Finals In Eastern Mass. Tourney

The Newton Tigers moved to the finals of the Eastern Massachusetts Tourney, by whipping a plugging Norwood nine. Good pitching and clutch hitting was the key as the Tigers scored an 8-1 triumph on a poor field at Boston College. A tricky infield and dead outfield made playing conditions as unfavorable as possible, and this coupled with the cold misty weather left it far from a perfect baseball day.

Al Martin opened on the hill for the fighting Orange, and after yielding a single to the leadoff hitter, set the next 18 men down in order! With pinpoint control, Fuzz was ticking the corners as he had his curve working. Pete Wall, Norwood's ace, had won 11 without a loss during the season and his brilliant tournament hurling, posed a big challenge to Fergy and his boys. In tournament play he had allowed but three runs and 14 hits in 18 innings, and the work horse was the big reason for Norwood winning the Bay State League title.

Newton found it rough going as Wall fanned the side in the first and allowed only two hits in the first three innings. Newton drew first blood in the fourth; Martin led it off with a clean single and Halloran walked. After Beggs had popped out, O'Laughlin drilled a hot shot down the third base line, and with the help of a rock-like infield the ball took a quick hop into left field and when the left-fielder bobbled the ball all runners came flashing around, to give Newton a 3-0 lead.

Meanwhile Martin was rolling along as he shut them out without a hit throughout the second, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth. This was the finest job Martin has turned in all season, and meanwhile Halloran was being rested.

The big Orange got to Wall for one more in the sixth, and it was obvious that the work-horse was now pitching on guts alone. Martin lined a hard single, and stole second. He moved to third on a grounder by Halloran, and scored when Beggs lifted a deep fly to center field.

Martin, who had turned in five good innings versus Dorchester, began to weaken in the seventh. Jerry Armstrong, and Ralph Generazo whacked back to back singles, and when Dixon walked on four straight pitches, in came Russ Halloran. Russ fanned the first batter to face him, and Minty Kuperatz moved in. He hit a little roller in front of the plate, and Beggs pounced on it and stepped on home for the force. As the runner came flying in from third, he barked into Beggs as Johnny went to throw to first for the possible double play. The throw sailed into right field but the umpire called it interference on the runner, and the side was out.

Newton wrapped up the game with a four run outburst in the eighth. DelGizzi led it off when the catcher dropped his towering pop-up in fair territory. He stole second, and after Keyes laid a bunt down, he scored when an attempted play on Keyes sent the ball into center field. Martin, walked, stole second, and Halloran lined a single to left center. A tough competitor, Wall left the hill in favor of McKenzie, and Norwood came up for their final raps.

Two walks and a hit batsman loaded up the bases, with Sophomore Dave Craig on the hill for Newton. A passed ball allowed one run, but then the Tigers closed the doors, and put the game away.

This was a great victory for the Tigers as they now move into the finals of the Eastern Mass. playoffs. If they win here, they will play in the state finals, and try to defend their state championship.

It was a flashy three hitter for Martin, Halloran, and Craig, and a good fielding job by Martin was very impressive. A converted infielder, Martin pounced on that hill like a cat, and his fine fielding pulled himself out of a lot of jams.

Newton Archers Set New State Records At Tournament

The largest Massachusetts State Archery Tournament in the history of the association was held at Amherst on June 9 and 10. The Newton Archers not only had high attendance but broke several state records. They won trophies and medals in several classes. Competing with top archers from clubs all over Massachusetts, The Newton Archers placed first in the Team Round and were awarded the Team Round Championship Trophy. Mr. Henry Jackson III, Captain, Dr. Robert F. Oxnham, Mr. Arthur Trickey and Mr. Lawrence E. Vienneau were on the championship team. Newton had four teams at the tournament. Mr. Victor Lemay, Captain, Mr. Silvio Vitale, Mr. David Crowley, Mr. Arthur Vienneau were on the second team and Mrs. Robert F. Oxnham, Mr. John Lavoie and Mr. Chesley Wedleton were on the third team. Caroline Wedleton, Peter Derow, and Robert and Philip Oxnham made up the Newton Junior Team.

Dr. Robert F. Oxnham placed second in the championship rounds for men. Mr. Leo Frawley of Lowell became the 1956 Massachusetts State Archery Champion. Mr. Robert Hart of Holliston had held the title in 1954 and 1955. Dr. Oxnham broke the 80 yard state record in the York Round. He placed first in the Clout Round setting a new state record with his high score. Mrs. Robert F. Oxnham, Secretary of The Newton Archers, placed second in Class B in the rounds for women. She received another medal for her 50 yard range score. Mr. Silvio Vitale placed third in Class C.

Robert Oxnham, thirteen year old, retained his title of Sophomore Boy Massachusetts State Archery Champion breaking the record he had established in the Triple Junior American Round in 1955. He placed first in the Clout Round for Sophomore Boys and set a new state record for the Clout. Robert was awarded a medal for the most golds shot in his class in the tournament.

Philip Oxnham, ten year old, became the Freshman Boy Massachusetts State Archery Champion and set a new state record for the Worcester Round. Philip placed second in the 1955 state tournament. Both he and his brother's scores indicated outstanding improvement in their archery skill.

Mary Elizabeth Oxnham, six year old, attended her first state tournament and placed third in the Freshman Girl Class. She was awarded a medal for her achievement. David Crowley also attended his first state tournament and was awarded two medals in the Freshman Boy Class. Both Mary Elizabeth and David will be given Certificates of Merit from The Newton Archers for their scores in the Worcester Round.

The Newton Archers, the oldest archery club in continuous existence in the United States is proud of its representation at the 1956 Massachusetts State Archery Tournament. They hope that there will be a fine attendance from Newton at the Eastern Archery Tournament at Springfield July 3-7, and at the National Archery

MRS. LOUIS FELDMAN who was tendered a luncheon Tuesday for the service she has rendered the Women's Division of the New England American Jewish Congress in her capacity as president.

Robin Hood Tournament Ends Saturday

In spite of the cold, rainy weather, the Waltham Branch of the Robin Hood Tournament was brought to a successful termination on Saturday, June 9. Under the conditions, a total of twenty-four young archers was a fine example of enthusiasm and grit. The awards will be made at the Club Handicap Tournament Saturday afternoon June 16, and many of the new archers, 100% of whom have joined the local club, will take part in this handicap tournament, in which everyone has a chance to win a substantial prize.

Shell Oil Opens New Safety Drive

In an effort to help reduce the rising toll of highway accidents, Shell Oil Company launched a new nationwide safety campaign this week through newspaper advertising.

George Hopkins, Shell manager here, said the campaign was spurred by the success of Shell's safe driving quizzes which appeared earlier this year in newspapers throughout the nation. The quizzes, aimed at testing the readers' ability as drivers, were generally acclaimed by the press, traffic safety officials and civic leaders.

Like the first series, the new campaign stresses the quiz idea instead of scare-type pictures or slogans, the Shell executive said. The ads will appear before the three major holidays this year and in the middle of summer, when large numbers of motorists leave their homes for vacations.

The campaign was immediately hailed by Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, who described it as "a most welcome sign."

"The new Shell program to help measure and improve the knowledge and skill of motorists offers added encouragement. For we are sure that with enough interest the terrifying accident rate can be reduced," Dearborn said.

"It is most heartening to see that a major gasoline manufacturing and distributing firm is taking such active leadership in this fight which concerns every thinking American."

New Gifts Announced by Unitarians

Memorial offertory plates and receiving bason for the First Unitarian Church in Newton and two smaller collection plates for the Cora E. Richards Memorial Children's Chapel have been placed in service at the West Newton Unitarian Church, Rev. John Ogden Fisher has announced.

These plates are dedicated to the memory of John H. Totman, John W. Estabrook, Florence M. Fisher, William E. Tomlinson, Jeannie B. Kenrick and Robert A. Whidden, deceased members of the parish.

The new trumpet stop, recently installed in the organ, was made possible by the gifts of friends, in lieu of flowers, in memory of Thomas A. West, long-time organist of the church.

Previous memorial contributions have been allocated to pews in the Children's Chapel, organ repair, choir robes and other equipment. Future possibilities, Mr. Fisher explains, include draperies for the side openings of the chancel, new attached seats in the vestibule, additional hymnals, etc.

Five years ago an informal memorial fund was established by the minister so that small memorial gifts might be recorded and used for the improvement of the church facilities and the enhancement of the service. Last month the Trustees of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, by unanimous vote, set up a Memorial Fund to be expended under their direction.

All Transient Guest Rooms Air Conditioned

The Hotel Beaconsfield has just completed the air-conditioning of eighteen additional transient guest rooms, according to an announcement by Roderick E. Bassett, General Manager of this popular Brookline hotel. This is in keeping with a policy designed to make the Beaconsfield as popular with travellers visiting Boston as it is with folks in Brookline, Newton and surrounding communities.

All transient guest rooms are now being completely refurnished and redecorated, and baths are being modernized with tiled showers.

Long a social center of the suburbs, the Beaconsfield is rendering its clients even better service by air-conditioning several of the function rooms, including the Sheraton Room, the Brookline Room and the Ballroom.

The Beaconsfield's lounge, the Hunt Room, is of course air-conditioned and congenial—a popular spot for smart suburbanites.

Do -- But Don't

You'll see a lot of people looking for trouble with their hearts this summer. They're the men and women who are chairborne all winter, and most of the spring and fall, and who blossom out on the first hot days of the year as weekend athletes.

They're the man who wants to take on Junior, and lick him, too, in a fast tennis game; the 36-hole golfer who weighs too much all year and sits too much all winter; the secretary who hits the beach early in the morning and swims hard and plays beachball until dark.

These are the perfectly well people whose applications are unwittingly being submitted for the least exclusive club in the world, the Cardiac Club.

They are spiritual cousins to the heart victim who persists in shoveling heavy snowdrifts all winter and then, somehow having survived, tries to spade up half the garden on the first day of spring.

The trend today among heart specialists is to permit more latitude to heart victims. Heart disease is more than a prelude to death; one can live with it and still have fun outdoors in the summer-time. It is equally important for heart victims and others who normally are sedentary to get outdoors, but to take it easy.

Swimming? Sure! Sunbathing? It causes heart trouble, if the sunbather is young and pretty, but not the physiological kind. Golf? Tennis? Walking? By all means but, to use a dull but vital word, moderately, please!

There's no reason a healthy man in his fifties shouldn't enjoy a game of tennis, but play doubles and get an energetic young partner for the tough, fast ones. Golf? The President does, and he's had a heart attack, but he's moderate about it.

Get outdoors this summer, heart victim or no! But this is your recreation, so re-create. Recharge your batteries, don't run your engine into the ground. Be just a little lazy.

That way, you'll be around a lot longer to enjoy the wonder of our New England summers.

Old Glory is 179!

We observed today (June 14) as Flag Day because it was on that day in 1777 that the Stars and Stripes, by resolution of the Continental Congress, came into being, with "thirteen stripes of alternate red and white, with a union of thirteen stars of white in a blue field, representing the new constellation" in the Western skies.

Our flag was first carried by American troops in the Battle of Brandywine the following September, and tradition says the first Old Glory was made by Betsy Ross, of Philadelphia, at General Washington's request.

Today, we observe that event of 179 years ago. Let us never forget 179 years ago. It gave us a flag to be proud of, a flag which is our heritage.

Political Overtones

Only one real-upset is possible at the Republican conclave. That conceivably might come in the fight for the endorsement for State Treasurer.

Until very recently State Senator John Adams of Andover, one of the most colorful and dynamic Republicans in the upper branch of the State Legislature, had that field entirely to himself and seemingly was assured of a place on the GOP State ticket.

Adams worked for a period of months, lined up support in all sections of the State and strongly positioned himself in case he was confronted with a sudden challenge.

The challenge came last week when Robert H. Beaudreau of Marlborough resigned as U. S. Marshal to contest with Adams for the endorsement for Treasurer. Ordinarily there would be no prospect that Beaudreau could make so late a start and overtake Adams. The feeling is, however, that Beaudreau was urged by some party leaders to step into the fight and was promised support if he did.

Adams backed Elmer C. Nelson in the recent fight for the State Committee chairmanship and may have incurred some hostility in his party by doing so. It does not seem that GOP leaders would risk a further row in their own party by attempting to pull the rug on him in reprisal, but it is possible that they might do so.

A strong factor in Adams' favor is that the Republican leaders must give some thought to balancing their State ticket, and the endorsement of Adams would help to do that.

In all likelihood, Sumner G. Whittier of Everett will be endorsed for Governor, Charles Gibbons of Stoneham for Lieutenant Governor, George Fingold of Concord for Attorney General and Richard I. Furbush of Waltham for Secretary of State. Whittier, Gibbons, Fingold and Furbush all are from Middlesex County. So is Beaudreau, and if he is successful over Adams it would mean that five of the six candidates on the GOP State ticket were drawn from the same county.

That, incidentally, will be one of the arguments advanced by the delegates supporting State Senator Leslie B. Cutler of Needham against Republican House Leader Gibbons for the endorsement for Lieutenant Governor. They will maintain that Norfolk County should be given some recognition and representation. The GOP machine, however, is behind Gibbons, and there seems to be little question but that he will prevail over Mrs. Cutler.

Whittier, Fingold and Furbush all will be nominated by acclamation and without any anticipated opposition. The endorsement for State Auditor probably will go to Attorney Joseph A. Nobile of the Back Bay.

Dinner for Attorney Edward Counihan

Attorney Edward A. Counihan, 3rd, son of Supreme Court Justice Counihan, who is campaigning for the Democratic nomination for District Attorney of Middlesex County, will be feted at a $50-a-plate testimonial dinner at the Continental Hotel in Cambridge on Tuesday night, June 26.

Leonard Goldstein, well known Newton attorney, is one of the active members of the committee planning the affair. More than 500 persons are expected to attend.

The tumult, furor, political intrigue and back-stage manipulation which marked the Democratic convention will be largely missing on Saturday. There will be no maneuvering such as occurred when Foster Furcolo attempted to persuade, first Executive Councillor Patrick J. McDonough and then Boston City Council President Edward J. McCormack, Jr., to accept the endorsement for Lieutenant Governor.

A big demonstration undoubtedly will be staged when Governor Herter places in nomination the name of Lieutenant Governor Sumner G. Whittier. That will be the moment for which the Whittier supporters have been waiting, and they will make the most of it.

Except for the colorful show they will put on, however, the GOP assembly probably will lack much of the drama and the fanfare of the Democratic conclave.

Only One Newcomer on Democratic Slate

A tremendous amount of confusion and uncertainty has been left in the wake of the Democratic convention. The ticket endorsed by the Democratic delegates at Worcester certainly does not shape up as a really powerful one.

Of the six candidates picked by the Democratic conclave, five were endorsed for one office or another at the 1954 convention. The lone newcomer is Representative Joseph D. Ward of Fitchburg who was backed for Attorney General. While Ward is a colorful legislator and an excellent speaker, there is some question as to how much vote-getting strength he will add to the slate.

Three of the other five choices were defeated after winning at the '54 convention, two in the election and one in the primary.

TAXES, ETC.

Editor, Newton Graphic: Nowadays, most of the current news events are centered around and about Communism. They concern their gracious and cruel smiles or beguiling tactics, their economic penetration into other parts of the world, their new esprit de corps with friendship for all, their changing view on foreign affairs, and also how to win friends and keep them—as witness Tito and Yugoslavia vs. the American nation or the good old U.S.A.

While all this may be very good and sound logic; as news to be published in great detail, I still think the basic issues which concern our people and with which they have to face, are right here at home. The fact is they concern each and every one of us. They are very vital and most important to our way of life, and affect our everyday living. Hence, these issues and how they are to be solved have now become of paramount importance, and their solution will eventually shape the pattern and determine our greatness as a nation.

Disregarding for the present—civil rights, segregation, other major issues, etc., the apathy and non-interest by the voters or electorate in the last local primary election and others—shows very little interest in our government and public affairs. This lackadaisicalness of the people is best shown by their nonchalance, in the all-important field of taxation.

We cannot be too complacent about this, or the sum-total of the harvest (taxes) might someday be reaped beyond our imagination and dismay.

Recently, we have seen very little public opinion expressed over the utter failure of some (informed and misinformed) to push through the Legislature, two bills—one designed as a system of graduated income taxes and much worse than the present one—unless modified to considerable extent. The other—that old bugaboo, the much-talked about sales tax.

The very nature of these bills strike at the source, dig deeply into our pockets, reduce our take home pay, and subsequently decrease our standard of living, and lower our status in society—under these ever-increasing methods of taxation.

This ever-present large spending out of income (derived from taxes) must be checked carefully, in both the central and state governments. This huge spending with taxes as the means to sustain it, cannot go on indefinitely; as it then becomes a headache, and a constant source of worry—to our citizens and taxpayers.

At present the end is nowhere in sight. A balanced budget (low) together with any great reductions in our public debt, could very soon become a thing of the past, in our fiscal policy.

What then does all this mean and how does it affect the citizens as a whole, all wage earners and taxpayers included? It means nothing more than with continued spending and excessive appropriations, with continuing higher prices for everyday commodities, and with high and higher taxes eating up our possible savings—Yes! all these could very seriously affect and destabilize our economy. Therefore, to each and every one of us—once again, "eternal vigilance is still the price of freedom."

Edward F. Durkin

Parke Snow's Vice President Describes His Trip to Orient

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the story of the experiences and impressions of Samuel A. Hornstein, vice president and general stores manager of the Parke Snow department stores, during a trip to the Orient to make purchases for the firm. Mr. Hornstein who lives with his wife and family at 74 Falmouth road, West Newton, has been with Parke Snow's for the past 27 years. He started with the firm as a stock boy and worked his way through various positions to the executive staff. He has a married daughter living in San Francisco and another daughter who is a freshman at Syracuse University.

By SAMUEL A. HORNSTEIN
Vice President and General Stores Manager
Parke Snow Department Stores

It was my intention as I left San Francisco on March 24th, to investigate the ever increasing Oriental market, in order to bring the many goods offered by the Japanese and Chinese, back to America for our customers. During my stay in Japan and Hong Kong, China, I was so vastly impressed by the business and social customs and way of life which I found, that the trip will live in my memory as one of the most impressive and interesting experiences I have ever had.

Perhaps the outstanding difference in the Oriental manner of conducting business is the graciousness and formality which exists during all transactions. One very typical example is my visit to a factory in Tokyo which for the past 300 years has been making fine cutlery. We were conducted to the office of a young executive who had inherited the business from his ancestors. I was rather surprised at first, on being required to remove my shoes before entering the office. This is a custom handed down through the years and illustrates the deep feeling which the Japanese have for cleanliness.

On entering the office I was immediately aware of the "up-to-dateness" of the surroundings, and attractiveness of the decor, modern in every respect. Before we were allowed to make any mention of business, or even indicate purpose of our visit, we were seated at a low, round table in the middle of the room, at which an aromatic Oriental green tea was served. For fully three quarters of an hour, we exchanged the pleasantries of the day, and talked of the differences in Western and Eastern customs. I must admit that although this was a charming interlude, I was more than anxious to get down to business and conclude my visit. It was quite apparent to me that any suggestion of hurrying the proceedings would have been a gross insult to our host.

When finally we felt it was proper to discuss our business, our host called upon his staff to display the samples of his product. His staff consisted of as many as 12 assistants, each one an expert in his particular phase of the business. Although our questions were answered at once, and various merits of the products explained to us, nowhere, could I find any type of a price list. Determining the cost of an item, was in itself an elaborate procedure. For every item in which we were interested, the proprietor, accountant and office manager produced an Abacus upon which he would calculate the price.

An Abacus is an ancient Oriental counting device consisting of several rows of beads which slide on wires within a wooden frame. With this device, an experienced Oriental can figure extremely rapidly and accurately. I'm told that a contest was held in New York recently between an American operating an electric calculating machine and an Oriental with an Abacus. The Abacus proved faster than the calculator.

The first price quoted to us was always higher than we were willing to pay, and this led to a period of bargaining and discussion before a final offer was made. When at last we had concluded our business, there followed another short period of polite discourse with much bowing from the waist in the traditional Oriental manner.

Interviewed by Press
In Tokyo, we were lodged at the palatial "Imperial Hotel." No sooner had we arrived, when a group of Japanese newspaper reporters requested interviews with us. They wanted to know from where we had come, how long we were to stay, and the purpose of our visit. Evidently, our story was published in that day's news at 6:30 our phone began to ring and for the next few hours literally hundreds of salespeople converged on us and in broken English offered us almost every type of commodity imaginable. This scene was repeated each day we were in Tokyo.

There is a vast difference in life between the large cities such as Tokyo, Nagoya and Kobe, and the life in outlying rural communities. In the cities, there are great modern factories that are as well equipped with technical advancement and machinery as any to be found in this country. In the rural areas, however, every home is a factory, and the people eat, sleep and work under one roof. In many cases the entire home is turned into a small factory and the family is forced to sleep in large wooden packing cases with as many as four people at once huddled into this cramped space.

Every member of the family is called upon to do his or her share of the work. I saw children of pre-school age, children who were barely old enough to toddle, put to work doing menial tasks. It goes without saying that we found sanitary conditions in these units quite distasteful to our sensibilities. As far as I could see, their main diet consisted of nothing but rice and fish.

In the cities, however, although the majority of the people work very hard, their living conditions are considerably better. There is still a vast difference, however, between their living conditions and those that we have in this country. For example, here are some typical wages earned by Japanese workers. An average factory worker earns from 14 to 28 dollars a month. Their supervisors and foremen bring home 35 to 40 dollars a month. Office workers earn from 20 to 30 dollars a month, with department store employees finding from 16 to 28 dollars in their pay envelopes every month. A department store buyer seldom takes home more than 55 dollars a month. Yet in these stores, there is a good selection of merchandise at prices comparable to, or higher than those with which we are familiar. The stores themselves are as up-to-date as any to be found on 5th Avenue, New York, or Moody street, Waltham.

Jobs Protected
Jobs in Japan are protected by law. If for economic reasons, an employee has to be cut down on the number of people in his store or factory, he is compelled to pay them 80% of their wages until he can once again hire them.

Because of the extreme overpopulation of Japan, and the small area in which they live, every inch of space is utilized. This is particularly evident in the rural areas. Every area of soil that can possibly be made to grow food is productive. Every dwelling is cramped with people, and every facility of man and nature is utilized. Absolutely nothing is wasted! Factory workers in Japan have only two "holidays" each year. These are May First and New Year's. For those that do have holidays, their desire for space is satisfied by flocking to the public parks by thousands. Every blade of grass, every tree and every blossom is held in reverence by the Japanese people. They are great lovers of the outdoors, and this is not at all hard to understand.

From what I could determine, two of the most popular diversions in Japan today are American movies and baseball. I have seen lines of people that stretch for block after block in the worst rainstorm waiting to see an American picture. Most of the movies are in English, with subtitles printed in Japanese at the bottom of the screen.

The Japanese "craze" for baseball far surpasses anything found in the most rabid fan of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Every High School baseball game is followed with the interest of our world series. Those who own radios, listen avidly to each ball game and everyone has his favorite team, and boasts of its accomplishments.

The Japanese also seem to be great lovers of pictures and picture taking. Wherever you go in Tokyo you see people of all ages carrying cameras and taking pictures of each other. They seem to love to be photographed. One afternoon while making our way to a Tokyo factory, we were attracted by a great commotion coming from behind a high fence. Going through a door in the fence, we found a group of children playing baseball. I wanted to record this scene, and started to take a picture. Before a few minutes, literally hundreds of children seemed to appear from nowhere, climbing on top of one another in order to attract my attention, and become the subject of my pictures.

Some of the most pleasant moments in Tokyo were spent in the lobby of the Imperial Hotel. This lobby is known as the crossroads of the world, where at any given time, one is surrounded by citizens of almost every country of the globe, each one bringing their own mannerisms and costumes to this small arena of cosmopolitan life. It was here that I was privileged to meet such people as the Consul General of the Dominican Republic, the King of a small African country, and from our own country such people as Samuel Goldwin, Marlon Brando and Glenn Ford of Hollywood.

Wild Taxi Ride
Taking a taxi in Tokyo is as hair-raising an experience as any American roller-coaster ride; and about 20 times as dangerous. The city streets are very narrow and the taxi drivers seem to think that their auto horns give them the right of way at all times. Because of this, there is a constant cacophony of horn honking and shouting in the streets and the accident rate is tremendously high. The people have nicknamed the taxi drivers "Kamakazis" after the daring Japanese pilots of World War II who gave up their lives while crashing their planes into enemy targets.

Early one Sunday morning, we were invited to go "fishing" in Tokyo harbor. Having been led to a house near the wharf and once again required to remove our shoes before entering, we were introduced to the captain of the fishing boat. I was particularly excited about this trip because fishing has always been one of my favorite pastimes. I have fished all through the lakes and seashore of New England, and was looking forward to this new experience impatiently as a school boy at the "old fish" hole.

My anxiety was all the more increased when I realized that before boarding the boat we were required by etiquette once again to sip tea and indulge in pleasantries. Finally after half an hour we were escorted to the ship and climbed aboard. To enter the low cabin we had to squeeze through a sliding window just above the deck (a difficult task for a person of my proportions). Once in the cabin, (with our shoes neatly lined up outside on the deck) tea was served again as we chugged our way through the channel into the harbor.

Needless to say, my anticipation was growing with every splutter of the antique engine. When finally in the middle of the harbor the Captain gave orders to drop the anchor, I noticed a young man standing at the bow of the boat and casting a huge net into the water. Every few minutes as we slipped our tea, he would recover the net and spill its contents of small fish into a bucket. I thought it strange that there was no fishing equipment in sight, but by this time I'd learned that anything could be expected. Before very long when my hunger began to surpass my desire to fish, we were served a Japanese "Tampouri" or fish fry.

Our meal evidently was the result of our young friend with the net. Instead of fishing, this was the way in which we spent the afternoon. Our fishing was being done for us, and I realized, that in spite of my disappointment, I had been enjoying myself thoroughly. On April 27th, we left Japan by plane for Hong Kong, China. Hong Kong is a crown colony of Great Britain which lies at the mouth of the Canton River, about 10 miles South of Canton, China. The island is 11 miles long with a total area of 32 square miles. The total area of the colony, including the peninsula of Kowloon on the mainland is 391 square miles in area. The last estimated population was 2,260,000. To give you some idea of the relative size and population of this tiny colony, we can compare it with Rhode Island which has a total square

45th Season of All Newton Music School Closes Saturday

The Forty-fifth season of the All Newton Music School will come to a close this Saturday, after a full and eventful year. This special birthday anniversary was celebrated on Monday, June 4, with an evening at the "Pops" in Symphony Hall. The event proved to be successful from every point of view, giving hundreds of Music School friends a pleasant program of music, with Constance Cover Wurster of the faculty as soloist in the Cesar Franck Symphonic Variations for piano and orchestra, as well as adding several hundred dollars to the scholarship and mortgage funds. The overwhelming cooperation and support of its many friends are gratefully appreciated by trustees and staff members of the School.

During the past few weeks, the following advanced students gave Student Diploma Recitals: Elaine Holmes, Carol Scipione and Carole Weeden of the piano department and Richard Minear of the cello department. The recitals were well attended by faculty and friends of the candidates, each of whom gave an outstanding performance demonstrating the careful and high-grade instruction and training received at the school, and the readiness to go on with more advanced work in music. They represented 67 school years of teaching — several of them having studied for more than ten years.

The Music School has a well integrated and progressive program offering many advantages and opportunities to provide children with a richer life, greater happiness and possibly a career. It accepts students of all ages from beginners to the most advanced, each having the advantage of careful supervision and coaching by the supervisors of music.

Next fall at the opening of the new school season, a limited number of scholarships will be awarded to students recommended by the music supervisors, approved by the music committee of the board of trustees and the director. Such scholarships are given to those students who have shown outstanding talent, school spirit, and cooperation.

The Music School is most fortunate in having a fine Parents' Association, an active and interested group which promotes understanding and cooperation between the home and the school and through special activities, support the work of the school and awards two scholarships each year to outstanding students.

Music School students are re-registering now before the fall season which will open for lessons on September 10. Registration will be held during the preceding week and new applicants will be accepted as far as vacancies permit.

The All Newton Music School, a worthy community enterprise of many years standing, is a member of the Newton Community Chest, the Newton Community Council, National Guild of Community Music Schools.

SCHOOL ON DISPLAY

On May 15, Warren Junior High held its Annual Grade Six Day. On that day all the elementary school pupils who will be in grade seven next year at Warren visited the school for the day.

Soon after their arrival, Mr. Vincent Marotto led the Warren orchestra in several selections for the visitors. Seventh grade pupils then explained the many opportunities in Art, Music Library, Home Economics, Gym and Industrial Arts. A typical day's schedule was explained to them. Following these talks a question period was held.

The grade six visitors were then taken on a guided tour of the building. The visit to the school was concluded after the pupils had lunch in the school cafeteria.

This program is designed to acquaint the grade six pupils with the Warren program and to make their adjustment easier next fall.

TOURING EUROPE

Miss Gertrude Mann, former Warren science teacher, is presently enjoying an extended tour of Europe. Miss Mann retired in April, after many years of teaching at the Levi F. Warren Junior High School.

Recently Sally Day, Doty Derick, Nancy Macalaster and Pam Bachrach received from Miss Mann an interesting account of her trip. At the time of the letter Miss Mann was enjoying the beautiful scenery of Scotland.

Upon returning to this country Miss Mann will return to her home state, Maine to operate her girls' camp.

Cadillac

Just Graduated...To a Cadillac!

It's graduation time! And this happy gentleman — appropriately enough — has just gone through some important graduation exercises of his own.

It was just a few minutes ago, in fact, that he stood in his dealer's showroom and accepted the keys to his first Cadillac.

But even though he now holds his final degree, so to speak, in motor car ownership, his education in all the good things of motordom is only beginning.

Take performance, for instance. The car is so smooth and powerful, and so nimble and obedient that it automatically revises a man's standards of automotive performance.

Consider comfort. Rolling along the broadest boulevard or taking the roughest bylane, the car is incredibly smooth and level in ride.

And think about pride and satisfaction. What an extraordinary feeling it is to sit in command of the "car of cars" — and find yourself the subject of admiring glances on every hand.

Have you ever considered how wonderful it would be to "graduate" to Cadillac? If you have, then this is a marvelous time to make the move.

Certainly, it has never been easier to sign your name to the title. We are, happily, in a position to offer you prompt delivery on your favorite model — and we know you will be pleased to learn how practical Cadillac ownership has now become.

Why not stop in while the springtime is still with us — and spend an hour at the wheel?

It's a wonderful season and a wonderful car — and a wonderful opportunity to enjoy them both!

Poison-

Mrs. Alice McMullin, wife of one of the victims, asked for a full probe of the case but requested the public to retain confidence in the hospital.

It is not expected that any inquest in district court would begin before the middle of next week.

"FLAGRANT MISTAKE"

Dist. Atty. Martin said that "it is widely assumed that all hospitals exercise extreme care in handling and administering all medications and the public has come rightly to believe this to be true. However, (in this case) it is apparent that a flagrant mistake has occurred."

The hospital's transfer of the worker is effective pending outcome of the investigation.

Mark C. Wheeler, hospital president, said the hospital has "instituted an investigation in conjunction with the authorities and it is being vigorously continued."

NEARLY LEFT HOSPITAL

Mrs. duMont had entered the hospital about 3:30 p.m. Sunday to remain overnight for X-rays of a back ailment.

Only by chance did she remain, however, when it was discovered that there were no private rooms available.

As she and her husband were leaving, a nurse reported there was a private room and she and her husband quickly took it.

Mrs. duMont, a real estate operator who worked from her husband's garage on Walnut street, Newtonville, had planned to go to the Cape this weekend, her husband reported.

Shortly before receiving the fatal liquid, duMont reported, his wife had been confronted with a nurse who wished to give her a hypodermic injection only to find she was addressing the wrong patient.

DuMont was suspicious then of the clear liquid brought by a second nurse but relented when she said he'd have to "trust someone."

"IN GAY SPIRITS"

McMullin had been in the hospital since May 30 for treatment of a cardiac condition, authorities said.

Both died shortly before 6 p.m. after drinking the fluid in question.

DuMont said he and his wife had been sent first to a fourth-floor room where "a woman was dying" but were leaving the hospital when a nurse said there was a room on the third floor.

"Let's take it, I said and we went to the room. Just about then a young lady came in with a big hypo needle and things on a tray."

"My wife asked, 'What's this for?' and the nurse told her it was for her. We convinced her she was in the wrong room."

He said his wife was in gay spirits and had been dancing around the room prior to the entry of a second nurse with some medicine for her to take. DuMont said he looked at the medicine and asked the nurse: "GOT TO TRUST SOMEONE?"

"How do you know this is right now?"

He quoted the nurse as answering: "Well, you've got to trust someone!"

"She had what looked like something the size of a whiskey jugger, not quite full and with it a glass of water. It was supposed to prepare her internally for the X-rays the next day."

"My wife drank it, threw the jugger down and grabbed the water which she drank right down. She began to shake all over."

"Say, what is this?" she asked the nurse.

He said the nurse told her it was "fleets"—a preparation for X-rays.

"I KNEW SHE WAS POISONED"

"Well, I've had fleets before, but it never tasted like this," duMont quoted his wife's answer.

"She said it was awful stuff and complained that she couldn't get the taste out of her mouth," duMont stated.

"In about 10 minutes she was as white as a sheet. Couldn't have been more than two minutes after I looked at her, she was staring into my eyes."

"I said, 'What do you want, Marlon?' duMont continued. He said her lips moved but he could hear nothing, and "when I looked at her hands, they were blue. Her mouth was turning blue."

"I called the doctor who was just a little way off, while the lady with us ran for the head nurse."

"I knew she was poisoned. Once years ago I saw somebody who had been poisoned."

"NOTHING ANYONE COULD DO"

"There was nothing anyone could do. Within minutes she was dead. I think that was about 5:45."

Both McMullin and Mrs. duMont had received identical substances within a few minutes of each other, investigators said. McMullin died shortly before 6 p.m. a few minutes after Mrs. duMont.

Mrs. duMont operated the Newton branch of the Walter Channing real estate office. She was a talented pianist. A native of Randolph, she was a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music. The duMonts would have been married 25 years on Oct. 17. They have no children.

Born in the Highlands, McMullin graduated from Newton High in 1923 after a career as a schoolboy pitcher. He later starred in the South Shore and Newton Twilight leagues.

He had been associated with his father in the family hardware business and for 25 years had been sole owner of the store at 1170 Walnut street. He was a member of the Highlands Men's Club.

He leaves a wife, Alice, a librarian; a daughter, Mrs. Joan Luthy of Glenview, Ill. two sons, C. Gordon, a Newton Junior College student, and Gregg E., a Newton High sophomore; his mother, Mrs. C. Gordon McMullin of the Centre, and two sisters, Mrs. Jane Farquhar of Halifax, N.S. and Mrs. Dexter Dimock of Pittsburgh.

Both funerals were held Tuesday.

lian Party. For example, we have recently learned from the newspapers that the State is considering running the Toll Road right through West Newton Square and the business section of Nonantum, along Washington and Watertown streets, and yet there is not one word of protest from the State Representatives of our District. Such inaction is inexcusable but typical.

"Newton is now one of the largest cities in the Commonwealth and constant attention, foresight, and intelligent action is required at the State House to protect its welfare. At this point in the political development of Massachusetts, I believe Newton must have Democratic representation if it is to hold its own. Voices in the councils of both parties are needed to provide assurance that the city in the future will suffer neither from neglect nor political expediency. I assure the voters of the District that if they see fit to elect me to represent them I shall place the welfare of Newton first and direct my energies to its protection."

Mr. Cooke is a practicing attorney, a member of the firm of Gottlieb, Hochberg & Cooke. He was educated in parochial and public schools, was graduated from Harvard College with honors in 1943 and received his L.L.B. from Harvard Law School after serving in World War II as a Naval officer. He is married to the former Jacqueline LaMarche and they have one child.

Active in community affairs, Cooke was last year's Village Chairman of the Community Fund in Newtonville. He is a member of the Ward 2 Democratic Committee and a former Vice President of the Newton Democratic Club. He has twice before won his party's nomination as a candidate for the office of State Representative in the Fourth Middlesex District.

"As the executive head of an important radio station, I have reason to know of the great good accomplished by Red Feather services. When asked to take on the responsibilities of Public Relations Chairman, I deemed it a task much lightened by this knowledge. It will be a pleasure and a challenge to help with the work of the 1957 Campaign," he said on accepting his post.

strongest program was the school safety program. School Safety Patrols were active in all elementary schools and in two of the five junior high schools.

In addition, 620 high school students received both class room and behind-the-wheel driving lessons during 1955.

Especially praiseworthy was the excellent arrangement in Newton for supervision of safety education in the schools, with a director and two assistants. During the Summer, all of the 35 recreation areas were supervised.

The AAA Contest judges continued: "Much time was spent during the year making pedestrian volume and observance studies. Many recommendations were made and carried out as to improving pedestrian facilities in Newton."

-- Bits From Bigelow --

CAMERA DAY

On Wednesday, June 6th, a much awaited activity was under way. It was "Camera Day" at Bigelow. Once a year, the Student Council sponsors "Camera Day," which is actually one period during which the entire school recesses to Burr Park Playground to take photographs. Most of the faculty participated in some phase of the program, with Mr. Grainger and Mrs. Kunberger, faculty advisors of the Student Council, acting as co-chairmen. At 1:40 the first bell rang admitting the 9th grade to the playground. The 8th grade went out at 1:45, and 7th followed at 1:50. At 2:25 we returned to homerooms for attendance and dismissal. Quoting Mr. Grainger, "I think that CAMERA DAY is enjoyed by most of the students, as it gives them a chance to obtain something that will always be there to renew fond memories of their days at Bigelow Junior High." Ellen Cerf—Grade 8

SOCIAL DANCE

The second and final seventh grade dance was held Friday, May 25, 1956 in the Bigelow gymnasium. Under the directional guidance of Mr. Norman Whitney, Miss Sally Fleming, and Mr. Edson Sheppard, two students from each of the sixth, seventh grade divisions were elected to organize the dance, and help run it smoothly. Not only dancing was in order, but also students from each division provided entertainment. At the end of the evening refreshments were served. Everyone enjoyed himself thoroughly and we would like to extend special thanks to Mr. Whitney, Miss Fleming, Mr. Sheppard and all of the students in the seventh grade for making the dance such a success. Carol Levi—Grade 7

ASSEMBLY

Tuesday, June 5, we had an International Assembly at Bigelow Jr. High. Robert Sade, the president of the senior class at Newton High, was chairman of the program. He and Linda Kahn, Louis Epstein and Dorothy Swanton spoke to us about their experiences as exchange students to Germany and Switzerland last summer. Briggitta (Gigi) Schaefer, an exchange student from Vienna, Austria, told us about student life there and her experiences in Newton. The assembly was very interesting. All of these students were sponsored by the American Field Service. There will be two assemblies next week. A play will be presented on Thursday by the Bigelow Drama Club. The following day the Bigelow Service Awards will be presented to students who have given good service through participation in various school activities. Susan Rice—Grade 8

PARENTS' NIGHT

At Bigelow we have had a series of Parents' Nights for parents of children in the 6th, 8th, and 9th grades. The parents whose children will be in the 7th grade next fall had an opportunity on Monday, June 4th, to hear about how the seventh grade differs from the elementary school, standards to expect, and activities offered. There was a panel discussion headed by Mr. Pray. Eighth grade parents came to school on April 30th to learn about the various 9th grade electives, Latin and French, and what their children will be doing. For parents who have children in the 9th grade there was a panel discussion on high school. On the panel was Mr. Leo Barry, principal of the high school; Miss Katherine Curtis, Asst. Prin.; Mr. Robert Mitchell, Guidance Counselor; and William Johnstone, representative from the Technical-Vocational high school. They spoke on the opportunities offered and the high school curricula.

Peggy Rosenbaum—Grade 8

CONSERVATION

Mr. Beattie's 7th grade class, Division 207, has been working on a conservation project for about a month. They plan to check erosion in the school yard and to grow grass on bare places. A plan has been made to put cement around the steps instead of grass but they are not sure if the plan will be carried out. Some projects that are planned will not be done this year, but will be saved for Mr. Beattie's next 7th grade class for their efforts in making Bigelow a more attractive school. Marilyn Murphy—Grade 7

MRS. DAVID S. BOND was elected president of the Boston Chapter of Hadassah at the annual meeting held yesterday at the Hotel Vendome. Mrs. Bond has served Hadassah as executive vice-president and membership chairman. Her community activities include service for Red Cross, Red Feather, Newton High School Student Exchange Project; Girl Scouts and volunteer work with the blind and with children in several settlement houses. Her daughter, Sylvia, graduated from Wellesley College last week and Judy is entering her senior year at Newton High School.

Emblem Club No. 8

The June meeting of the Newton Emblem Club No. 8, was held Monday evening, June 11, at the Elks Hall, Newton Corner. The meeting was conducted by President Mrs. Julia Harrison.

Highlight of the evening was a testimonial given in honor of Mrs. Blanche McGowan who was one of the original 15 members who helped form Emblem Club No. 8. Sister McGowan was elected to secretary on the second election held and for several years has held office as recording secretary, corresponding secretary, and president of the Newton Emblem Club, and has also held office as Supreme District Deputy and has been an officer in the Massachusetts State Association of Emblem Clubs for a number of years. Mrs. McGowan has been active for many years in several other clubs too, and during the war served as an Air Raid warden and did a great deal of Red Cross work.

Past President, Mrs. Betty McDonald originated the idea for this testimonial, and as chairman, with a committee of ardent workers, served a supper after the meeting. Marshall, Mrs. Phyllis Guzzi escorted Sister McGowan in and seated her at the table to the right of President, Mrs. Julia Harrison. To the right of Mrs. McGowan was seated four of her seven children, her daughters, Dorothy, Esther, Phyllis, and Margy. To the left of the president was seated an honored guest who came to pay homage to a long-time friend and co-worker, Past Supreme President, Mrs. Bernard McHugh of the Watertown Emblem Club.

A book of Silver Dollars with the names of all the sisters who contributed to it was presented to Sister Blanche with a bouquet of American Beauty roses and several personal gifts.

Sister Betty McDonald entertained the gathering with a take off on Ralph Edwards, giving a "This is Your Life" story, Blanche McGowan. Ten past presidents of the Newton Emblem Club tendered their greetings and congratulations. Messages from members not able to be present were read by Sister McDonald.

A sad note was injected into the gaiety of the evening. The sisters were sorry to hear we are losing a very valuable and well liked member, Mrs. Helen Ceola. Sister Ceola is moving to Tucson, Arizona in July. A parting gift from the sisters was given to her with many wishes for good luck, good health and happiness. A bridge and whist party will be held Monday evening, June 27. This is to be the last meeting until September.

Swimming Program to Open At Crystal Lake This Saturday

The Newton Recreation Department will officially open the Swimming Program at Crystal Lake this Saturday afternoon, at 2 p.m.

Through the cooperation of the Newton School Department, season permits for children have been sold at the five Junior High Schools and at nine of the elementary schools from which our heaviest load of swimmers come. Permits have also been sold at Sacred Heart School and at the Newton Boys' Club.

The Recreation Department has installed a new dock system to replace the old T Raft and side raft. The new dock will parallel the shore line from in front of the Bathhouse toward the railroad side of the Lake. The main dock measures 12' x 24', the same as the old T wharf. A six foot wide walkway extends 48' toward the railroad side and becomes a 12x12 pier to the shore line.

The installation of this facility will promote better swimmer control and safety easier instruction procedure and enable us to develop more recreational swimming.

The beach and bathhouse will be open from 2 p.m. to approximately 8:45 p.m. daily from June 16 through June 22. Beginning on June 23 the Beach and Bathhouse will be open daily from 9 a.m. to approximately 8:45 p.m. daily until Labor Day. The Sunday schedule provides for swimming on Sunday afternoon from 2:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. Swimming permits may be purchased at Crystal Lake beginning June 16. No permits will be sold from any other location in the city during the summer season.

All persons who plan to use the Crystal Lake Beach must have a permit and must check through the bathhouse.

No swimming is allowed from the park areas on Lake avenue or from the railroad property between Centre street and Rogers street.

Control of swimming off private property is the direct responsibility of the property owner. For the protection and safety of our children it is recommended that property owners do not allow swimming from their property without proper supervision.

The Newton Recreation Department makes use of a restricted swimming area with complete supervision. This program is followed because the deep waters of Crystal Lake are known to be treacherous. Property owners will do well to encompass the same type of restriction by prohibiting long-distance swimming.

Rules and Regulations for the Government and Use of Crystal Lake are posted at the Bathhouse.

Safety Hints are printed on a one sheet bulletin and are issued to each person who purchases a permit.

Brownie Troop 8 of Waban is completing its second year of Brownie Scout activities under the leadership of Mrs. Eli Dannenberg and Mrs. Arnold Shaw. The ten girls in the troop, all enthusiastic fourth graders are Jane Freeman, Sally Williamson, Pamela Shaw, Linda Dannenberg, Madeline Shames, Melanie Cooper, Merle Isenberg, Nancy Fitzgerald, Jessica Greene, and Marjorie Price. During this past year, the girls have studied knitting, and done some square dancing. Greeting cards, puzzles and picture scrapbooks were made for hospital service projects. The Angell Memorial Animal Hospital trip provided many new and interesting facts for the girls about the care of their pets. Troop 8 flew up on June eighth at Cedar Hill; the troop next year will be under the leadership of Mrs. Jerome Cooper, Mrs. Albert Shames, and Mrs. Leigh Fitzgerald.

NEWTONVILLE BROWNIES

Brownie Troop 208, of the third grade of Our Lady's School, celebrated the first anniversary of their induction into the Brownies with a party at the school last Friday afternoon. The central attraction was an immense cake, with the full text of the Brownie Promise inscribed in frosting on the top. A smaller replica of the cake, similarly inscribed, was presented by the troop to Sister Aubert and Sister Placidus, third grade teachers, who are Spiritual counselors of the troop. Barbara Raftery and Sandra Carrol escorted the guests of honor into the hall, where Mrs. John O'Reilly Jr., the troop leader, made an address of welcome. Helping Mrs. O'Reilly in arranging for the party were Mrs. Leo Raftery, assistant troop leader, and troop committee members Mrs. Thomas Learned, Mrs. Antonio Volante, and Mrs. John J. Sullivan.

HAMILTON SCHOOL COURT OF AWARDS

The Girl Scouts of Newton Lower Falls held their annual Court of Awards on May 31st. Approximately one hundred and twenty Scouts, parents, and friends were present to see the girls receive their awards. Troop 94 provided a color guard and Meredith Howard of that troop played the piano while everyone sang "America, The Beautiful." Brownie Troops 222 and 80 received their Brownie World Friendship Pins from their leaders, Mrs. Robert Clinton, Mrs. William Donahue, Mrs. H. Friedman and Mrs. Robert Henley. Brownie Troop 53 received their Service Pins from Mrs. Edward Gleason and Mrs. Noel Leighton, the troop leaders. At this time Brownie Troop 114 had their Fly-Up ceremony. Mrs. Robert McGlone, field director, presented ten girls with their rings; Mrs. Arthur McDaniel, the leader for next year, heard their Girl Scout Promise and presented them with their Girl Scout pins. Troop 94 received their awards and badges from their leaders, Mrs. Arthur McDaniel and Mrs. H. Wiesel. Mrs. Donald R. Lee, Neighborhood Chairman, was presented with a lovely bouquet of carnations by the girls—"a thank you" for her interest in the past year.

Spring and Summer Fashions Shown

A private showing of spring and summer fashions was presented on Wednesday, May 30, by members of the Modeling Class of the Newton Conservatory of Dance and Related Arts, at the Conservatory, 1643 Beacon Street, Waban. The fashion show was under the direction of Miss Vivian Bold, director of the Conservatory.

Guests attending the presentation were shown a collection of apparel styles to wear for various activities and occasions that make up the life of today's busy young teenage girl.

Fashion commentators for the show was Miss Kay Sleater, nationally known fashion authority and Director of Fashion and Design for Foot Flairs Shoe Company. Miss Sleater pointed out the fashion significance of coordinating the entire costume from head to toe and expressing each individual's personality in their choice of accessories.

Highlighted in the showing were a variety of bright and pastel play outfits — shorts, tunic tops and slacks with matching or contrasting shirts and packets. For swimwear, elasticized cotton swim suits were favored. For in-town and suburban shopping tailored linen and cotton suits, shirtwaist dresses and sheath and jacket ensembles were shown. Cotton and silk prints were featured for afternoon dressy occasions.

For spring and summer formal dance occasions, filmy organza, silk and chiffon dresses of mid-calf length were modeled.

Modeling in the fashion showing were: Miss Mary Denault, Miss Lynda Goldstein, Miss Lee Sallie, Miss Linda Sherman, Miss Linda Slavin and Miss Martha Soule.

Newtonite of the Week

LEWIS PAUL SIMONS

This week, The Graphic is proud to salute Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian of 28 Lennox street, West Newton. For a decade Mrs. Gregorian has been working to build the Newton Girl Scouts into an organization worthy of the youngsters and of the city. Today the Girl Scouts have leadership, facilities and a program equal to that of any other city in the United States.

Mrs. Gregorian's interest in scouting was aroused when her oldest daughter was in the elementary grades. Young Miss Gregorian, like many others her age, was interested in becoming a member of the Scouts. Quite naturally, Mrs. Gregorian also became interested.

Her first job with the Scouts was as leader of the Pierce School Troop. Her work there, and the tremendous drive and enthusiasm she has engendered through the years, caused her to become known as an individual well qualified for a leadership position in the Scout's Planning Committee. Eventually she was elected president of the Newton Girl Scout Council.

Although no longer president, Mrs. Gregorian is presently doing a job for the Scouts which may very well be more important. She is general chairman for the fund raising drive which hopes to raise $50,000 during the month of June for a new summer camp. The story behind this drive is quite interesting.

The Newton Girl Scouts had an overnight camp near the Natick-Weston border. Unfortunately the new east-west toll road usurped part of its acreage. Although much of the camp property is still intact the closeness of the highway makes it unsuitable for the needs of overnight camping. In view of these happenings it was agreed that the old camp site should be used for day sorties only and that a new location for overnight use should be sought.

The committee which studied this matter scrutinized 25 sites before deciding on one. The camp they chose is situated in southern New Hampshire. It is presently being operated as a private installation but will be available next summer.

Purchase price of the camp includes all facilities and physical property. This includes, among others, 100 acres of land, waterfront, sailboats and cabins. This vacation area will accommodate approximately 100 Girl Scouts. The fee will be nominal, probably ranging below $30 per week.

It is hoped by Mrs. Gregorian and others that the $50,000 needed to purchase the camp will be contributed by July 1. Mrs. Gregorian, as general chairman, has her committees well formed, and the task of raising the funds is well organized. I am informed that the acquisition of this retreat will give the Newton Girl Scouts a recreational area as good as any in this part of the country.

The Scouts are not the only activity which interests Mrs. Gregorian. For the past three years she has been vice-president of the Newton Community Council governing board. This council, representing most of Newton's social agencies, has done much to improve our city. One of its most dramatic achievements is the Human Relations Committee which was formed on its recommendation.

Mrs. Gregorian has recently been named to the budget committee of the Community Chest in Newton. She will be the first two women ever to be so designated. She has also been named to the cabinet of United Church Women, a tribute to her service to church work.

Through the years Mrs. Gregorian has been an avid supporter of the P.T.A. and has done much to weld its solidarity.

It is apparent that Mrs. Gregorian is a woman who works endlessly for the best interests of her city. We all profit by her efforts and for that we thank her.

Large Crowd Sees Russ Halloran Fan 24 Waltham Batters

Russ Halloran, turning in one of the greatest performances of his stellar high school career, fanned twenty-four batters and scattered three base hits, as Newton won a thrilling 4-3 ball game from a determined Waltham nine.

The largest crowd of the season, saw a brilliant display of pitching, as the blond, lanky, righthander, fired his fast ball and broke off beautiful curves. His occasional change of pace kept the batters honest, and his cross-fire was never better. This well-earned victory was dampened however, by the loss of two Newton players due to a collision in the outfield.

Halloran and Waltham's Bernie Chaisson were locked in a brilliant pitcher's duel when Bobby DelGizzi broke out of his late season slump, with a terrific, smash to the track in right center for a home run. After Leonard had bounced out Jackie McCree got good wood on a ball and belted it over the left fielder's head for a triple. Martin waited out two pitches and then drilled one through the infield for a run-producing single.

Waltham came back fighting in the sixth to get back one of the runs. A slow bouncer to the mound was bobbled by Halloran and Fucci walked. The usual sure-fisted receiver, Johnny Beggs, was charged with a passed ball and both runners advanced. On a bouncer to the mound, Halloran chased the runner back and fired to first for the out. As Scaddi broke for the plate, Martin fired to third baseman O'Laughlin who tossed to Beggs, but Johnny couldn't hold the ball and the run scored. Then came the big seventh frame for Waltham.

Chaisson fanned, but Beggs allowed the ball to break through him and Chaisson raced to first. After Russ struck out Falzone, Jimmy Connerly lashed a line drive in the gap between McCree and Leonard. While in pursuit of the ball, the two crashed head-on, and fell to the ground. The ambulances arrived and the boys were immediately taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital and temporary diagnosis was that McCree had suffered a fractured jawbone, and that Leonard had either a broken shoulder or a broken collarbone.

The tainted homer, gave the Watch City boys a 3-2 lead, and put the Tigers in a tough position. Manny Connerly moved into centerfield, and Colletto and Bergman moved into the other outfield slots.

Oddly enough, it was the second time that two boys crashed and were hospitalized in a game at Newton. In April, two visiting Rindge Tech players crashed suffering injuries. As a further oddity, Newton's McCree was the boy that hit the ball in the Tech accident.

Halloran bore down to fan the next two batters and ended the inning. Jimmy Colletto led off the Newton half of the seventh by reaching on an error, and moved to second when Martin's bunt was kicked around in the infield. Colletto got a good jump on Chaisson and stole third, Martin moving to second on a grounder by Keyes. Halloran was intentionally walked to load up the bases, and here Chaisson really bore down and turned in a brilliant bit of pitching. He fanned Ronny O'Laughlin on five pitches, and got Beggs on a hot shot down the third base line.

Halloran worked himself out of a jam in the eighth and Newton came up for another try in the eighth. Connerly worked Chaisson for a walk, and moved to second when Bobby DelGizzi whacked his second hit of the game, and reached base for the fourth time in the game. Chaisson kicked a bouncer by Colletto, and with the bases loaded, Bergman lifted a fly to center to drive in the tying run. Al Martin then banged one through the tightly drawn infield to bat in the winning run. Keyes and Halloran were struck out by the new Waltham hurler.

Halloran fanned the first two batters and got the third to hit a towering pop-up to Martin at first.

It was an up-hill fight all the way and a big win for the Orange and Black. However the victory would gladly be yielded by Newton, if they could have their two outfielders back, safe and sound. Halloran showed that he is ready for the playoffs, and the Tigers continue to make the best use of their hits. However the Tiger defense appears to be getting worse if anything, and could be costly in the tourney. The loss of Leonard and McCree will hurt and this means that the Tiger bench will be counted on heavily. DelGizzi had two hits as did Martin, and this may mean that these boys have broken out of their slumps.

The Tigers close out their regular season with a game at Brookline and then comes the play-offs.

1150 Hear Wilson Tell About Novel

More than 1150 persons heard Sloan Wilson, West Newton author of "The Man in the Grey Flannel Suit" describe his experiences in writing the book and his satisfaction with the movie which was shown at a special benefit performance at the West Newton Theatre last Wednesday.

Wilson, who was introduced by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., told the audience at the Central Little League Benefit that the Hollywood studio informed him that he was one of only two authors that had expressed satisfactions with adaptations of their novels by that studio.

The showing was organized by the Central Little League Auxiliary, with Mrs. William P. Nelson and Mrs. A. M. Chas. as co-chairman. The money will be used for Little League baseball expenses.

At McGill University, Montreal, Canada, Miss Jeannie Toscano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Toscano of 76 Day street, Auburndale, received her B.A. degree. Her parents and her sister, Elizabeth, attended the convocation ceremonies, held May 30th.

High School Activities

Commencement exercises of Newton Junior College will be held this year on Friday evening, June 15 at 7:15 p.m. in the Memorial Auditorium at City Hall. There will be thirty-two graduates honored at this ceremony. The highest ranking student is Class Marshal, Flagg Newcomb.

The Newton Junior College graduates will have as their distinguished speaker, Senator Leverett Saltonstall, who will talk on "Our Graduates and Public Service Today." The procession and recessional will be played by Joanne Straley, '57, Erroll Haywood of the graduating class will play a Piano Prelude. For the first time there will be an outdoor reception given on the lawn of City Hall after the exercise.

Congratulations to David Sachar who once more brought honor to Newton High School by winning Fourth Prize in the "High School Prize Examination in Mathematics," sponsored by the Mathematics Club of the University of Massachusetts.

David's prize was a gold medal and seventy-five dollars awarded by regional life insurance companies.

So that other Junior Red Cross councils might be able to benefit from our experience and ideas, the Newton Junior Red Cross council sent Judy Francis and Louise Farnham to the National Convention at St. Louis, Missouri. Louise and Judy flew to St. Louis June 2 and returned June 5. Both agree that the Newton program was greeted enthusiastically and stood out well among those of the other councils.

What makes Mary Ann Lee different from all the other 1956 graduates of Newton High is that she has never attended a class at the school.

Mary Ann, who could not participate in regular classes for medical reasons, completed her courses in math, French, English, etc., studied with our own Newton teachers, and maintained honor grades throughout high school.

An avid stamp collector, she has won several awards for her collection, the most recent being third prize in the Jordan Marsh stamp exhibition and honorable mention in the Philatelic Exhibition in New York.

The Newtonite Athlete of the Year by popular choice, is All-Scholastic Russ Halloran.

Halloran, one of the great athletes ever to play for Newton High really was placed in the limelight by his pitching in the State Tourney last year. The Boston Herald named him co-captain of the All-Scholastic baseball team.

This year Russ captained the basketball team. He was also a most prolific scorer, setting a record for most points in one game at 41 and also capturing high scorer honors. Captain of the baseball team, he is kept busy on the field at all times by his outstanding batting and pitching. Baseball scouts are also on the prowl; many clubs including the Red Sox are very interested.

REV. AND MRS. RANDOLPH S. MERRILL

25 Years as Minister

Rev. and Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill Are Honored

Gathered with 500 members and friends of Central Congregational Church of Newtonville last Thursday evening, the Reverend and Mrs. Randolph Seaman Merrill were feted to a gala reception completing 25 years as minister of the church.

With Rev. and Mrs. Merrill in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Frail.

The Social Committee under the guidance of Mrs. Winslow Auryanson and Mrs. Leon White played catered refreshments in the attractively decorated dining room.

The program, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold C. Black, Co-Chairman for the reception, opened with an address of welcome by Mrs. Black. Walter Phillips, Master of Ceremonies for the evening kept the evening light and humorous as he introduced first, the Address Sisters. These three sisters, 25 years ago played as a trio at the Merrill's first reception, and again favored the gathering with several selections. Mrs. Black then presented Mrs. Merrill with 25 American Beauty roses, symbolizing one rose for each year of devoted service to Central Church.

Dorothy Bernard and Franklin Field, Church soloists, sang two duets. Mrs. Ross accompanied them at the piano.

Donald Frail, Vice Treasurer of Newton Savings Bank, and Moderator of Central Church, presented gifts to the Merrills comprising of a projector and screen, and a purse with a sum of money.

Republican State Ticket Appears Stronger on Paper: Voters May Overhaul Democratic Slate in Sept. Primary

On paper the ticket endorsed at the Republican State convention appears slightly stronger, particularly at the top, than does the slate picked the week before at the Democratic conclave.

The biggest edge the GOP has, of course, is that President Eisenhower possesses greater vote-pulling power in Massachusetts than any of the Presidential candidates the Democratic party might nominate or, for that matter, more than all of them combined.

As one Democratic contender sized it up, "The Republican candidates in this State will be riding on Eisenhower's shirttails and getting mileage out of him, while we'll be carrying our candidate for President, whoever he is, on our backs, and he'll be getting mileage out of us."

That is a fairly accurate appraisal of the situation except for the fact that the Democratic slate, as it is now constituted, isn't strong enough to carry any of the prospective Presidential choices on its collective backs and bring him home ahead of President Eisenhower.

Major Share Of Tax Rate For Schools

Over three-quarters of the tax increase here resulted from the increased school department budget, according to the official analysis of the tax rate announced by the Board of Assessors.

The 1956 rate of $48.20, as predicted by The Graphic, will be listed on the tax bills as $29.79 for the general expenses of the city and $18.41 for the School Department, compared with $29.45 for the general fund and $17.35 for the schools last year. The school increase is $1.06 and the general fund increase is 34 cents.

Total school appropriations this year were $6,216,064, while the income and credits totalled $1,616,420, so that the net amount to be raised by tax-

Estimated Cost to Be $573,000

A special meeting of the membership of Eliot Church was held Wednesday evening, June 13, to hear a report of the Building Plans Committee. Plans for the new church building have been drawn by the church architects, Collens, Willis, and Beckonert. Preliminary approval of them has been given by the Building Plans Committee and the General Planning Committee. Sketches of these plans were projected on a screen and the details were described by Dr. Ray Johns, chairman of the General Planning Committee.

The plans make provision for all the facilities which the study of the Planning Committee showed would be needed for the activities of the new church. The structure will be colonial in type, red brick with white trim blending into a simple almost contemporary type in the church school section. The main entrance from Centre street will have a handsome portico with tall white columns surmounted by a spire. The sanctuary will seat 400 people on the floor and a small number in the balcony. There will be a small chapel toward the rear connected with the church and having a separate entrance from Church street. The necessary rooms for administrative offices and service facilities and a church parlor are back of the sanctuary and a church school wing is in the rear.

On the lower floor there will be a fellowship hall under the sanctuary seating 250 at tables, having a large stage and a

French Lad 'Adopted' by Newton Girl

Little Jean Geslain, 3-year-old French boy, has been "adopted" through the Foster Parents' Plan, by Miss Mary-Jean Paquet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Paquet of 110 Upland avenue, Newton Highlands, according to an announcement by Plan headquarters in New York City.

Jean's father was active in the French Underground during the war. He was with the English army during the landing of English and American forces in Dunkerque and Cherbourg. His continual activities in addition to his regular work, tired the man dangerously and lowered his resistance so much that he never recovered his strength. He was stricken with paralysis in 1953 and died in August, 1955.

The poor, grief-stricken mother was left with three young children to provide for.

Tigers Knocked Out Of Finals By Everett, 5-0

A tall, lanky, bespectacled, right-hander, from Everett way held the Tiger's bats to but two singles, and with the help of one big inning by his teammates, led the Everett ball club into the state finals.

Newton fired it's ace Russ Halloran and the All-Scholastic hurler pitched brilliantly, but for one frame—that the fifth. For the first four innings Russ mowed down the side in order, fanning seven, but his teammates hadn't figured out the tricky serves of this crafty ace from Everett. This was the third complete game in a week for the Everett ace but he showed no signs of weakening. A single in the first off the bat of Kenny Keyes, and a bloop single by Johnny Beggs in the ninth, was the extent of the Tiger attack. Pre-season predictions told that the Tigers didn't have the hitting, and throughout the season this was proved false, as Newton hit for a team average of over .290. But it caught up with them in this game, as they faced the best pitcher they have seen all year.

In the Everett fifth, catcher George Catarus walked with one down, pitcher Milton then slugged a long smash into the center field stands for a ground rule double, as this was the first

The Guide combines the information on the heart and circulation usually included in courses on biology, anatomy and physiology, and can be supplemented by the use of Massachusetts Heart films, charts and heart models.

A major section is devoted to experiments recommended to dramatize the functions of the heart and circulation in terms to bring the subject to life for high school youngsters.

The red-jacketed booklet was prepared under supervision of the Massachusetts Heart Association's committee on heart education in secondary schools. Warren L. Bartlett, Brookline High School biology teacher, served as editor, with Dr. Harold Levine of Brookline, chairman of the committee on Public Information and Education for the Massachusetts Heart Association, as medical advisor.

kitchen and serving room adjoining. Additional rooms for the church school will be under the offices and the school wing. A special organ chamber is provided for the fine Baroque organ given by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Dane.

In a discussion period which followed the presentation of the plans many questions were asked about various aspects of the new building. Dr. Johns pointed out that the plans were only in a preliminary stage and many details would have to be modified and he welcomed suggestions for alteration and improvement. A factor which might necessitate changes in the plans would hinge on construction costs. He stated that a careful estimate by a contractor indicated that the cost of construction might be quite a bit more than had been anticipated. If there were not funds available for construction and complete furnishing of the interior it would be the intention of the building committee to erect the building as planned and to finish the sanctuary and only as much of the rest of the interior as they had the money for. The committee does not wish to go into debt but is hopeful that the $573,000 can be raised which it is estimated the proposed plan will cost.

Adopted-

She had nursed her sick husband for two years and is fatigued and depressed the ordeal and the barren prospects life offers her and her children. There is no pension for the father's death because it is not recognized as having been caused by the war. She has a family allowance of $56.23 which is very little for the rent ($25 a month) and the monthly living expenses of a family of four.

Jean's mother is very busy with the care of the house and family, but she is planning to go to work as a stenographer in the fall, when Jean and his older sister and brother, Claude, 9, and Martine, 7, will all be in school. The maternal grandparents are living, but they are old and sick, and therefore, cannot extend any help to their daughter's family.

There is no gas not running water in the single room where these people live. They have to get their water outside. There is little comfort, but the room is kept tidy.

A nice-looking little boy with fair hair and brown eyes, Jean is quite tall for his age. He is affectionate and, except for getting angry when his older brother and sister tease him, he has a pleasant disposition.

This is worthy little family, and will use to good advantage anything they receive. Through "adoption" of little Jean, Miss Paquet has assured him of warm clothing, periodic parcels of nourishing food, shoes, a warm blanket, medical and other services and the $9 monthly cash grant given to every child under Plan care.

The mother will be able to get kitchen utensils and used clothing for the other family members from the Plan warehouse.

Foster Parents' Plan is a non-profit, non-propaganda, non-sectarian independent, government-approved relief organization which according to its by-laws provides for the "care, maintenance, education, training and well-being of children orphaned and distressed and otherwise made destitute." It does not do mass relief; each child is treated as an individual. "Adoption" is financial, not legal. The Foster Parent merely promises to contribute $15 monthly towards the child's support, for at least a year. Of this sum the child receives $9 each month as an outright cash grant. The remainder is made up of periodic food and new clothing packages. Special needs of the child are taken care of. In return, the Foster Parent receives a brief history of the child and a photograph, and correspondence through the Plan office is encouraged with letters translated both ways, since the children need the feeling of being loved and belonging to someone, some place.

The amount of the tax rate charged to the schools is based on a formula set by the Department of Corporations and Taxation and must be listed on the tax bills. The tax rate is based on the assessed valuation of $252,642,850.

Newton Couple Killed in Crash In Pennsylvania

An Auburndale man and his wife were killed in the flaming wreckage of their car Sunday after a collision with a trailer truck on the Pennsylvania Turnpike east of Ford Littleton, Penn. The victims were John L. McAvoy, 60, and his wife Laura, 55, of 1949 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale.

State police stated the McAvoy car swerved across the toll road medial strip into the path of the oncoming truck. The truck driver, Michael Roth of Bedford, Penn., said he swerved the truck in an effort to avoid the car. He escaped with minor injuries.

The crash set fire to both vehicles, destroyed the auto and the cargo of glassware in the truck. The auto was dragged nearly 500 feet after the collision.

The McAvoy's were on their way to Pittsburgh on a business trip. Both were natives of that city and had lived in Newton for the past eight years. They left Newton Saturday and spent the night with a daughter, Mrs. William Becker of Boston Post road, Westbrook, Conn.

Besides their daughter, the McAvoy's are survived by a son, John L. Jr., of 21 Oakvale road, Framingham.

Mr. McAvoy was a member of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, and his wife was a member of the Newton New-comers Club.

... Our Aging Population

Marked decline in mortality rates coupled with a lower birth rate and restrictive immigration practices have more than quadrupled the number of Americans 65 years of age and older since 1900. These figures were published in Progress in Health Service, a monthly statistical bulletin published by Health Information Foundation.

In its June issue, the bulletin says this tremendous increase in the over-65 population of the United States has brought a noticeable change in the composition of the total population, and has required that more attention be given to the problems of later life—problems of income, health and social and psychological adjustment.

"At the turn of the century," the bulletin reports, "only 4 percent of the population was in those ages; today, however, 9 percent of our population is over 65. In absolute numbers, while the population of the United States has doubled since 1900, our population's 65 and over has more than quadrupled, increasing from about 3 million to more than 14 million. Clearly, as the benefits of reduced mortality continue, this age group will increase; its manifold problems will be of even greater importance in the future."

During the past 50 years the birth rate has dropped from 30 per 1,000 population to 25 per 1,000 and is not expected to increase appreciably, according to the bulletin. Immigration of young adults has ceased to be a factor, while sharp drops in mortality rates have increased our chances of survival at all ages. Thus, with greater proportions of the population living longer and with a declining proportion of young people, the average age of the United States population is increasing, and by 1975 it is estimated that there will be 21 million Americans 65 years or older.

Sixty-three percent of the aged population was in the labor force in 1900, whereas only 24 percent are gainfully employed today.

The health problems of the aged are reflected in statistics showing an average gross medical bill for the aged of $102, compared to an average bill of $65 for the population as a whole. Even so, only one out of eight persons 65 years or older is incapacitated three or more months every year, the bulletin reports.

In an editorial note the Health Information Foundation, says that there is evidence of "undue pessimism" about the apparent problems of the aged. "Yet, a recent study by the Twentieth Century Fund points out that older people will be less of a problem as time goes on. The study shows that while in 1890 there were only 142 dependents for each 100 workers, by 1975 each 100 workers will be supporting from 114 to 125 dependents.

These are reassuring figures. True, the proportion of older persons among dependents will increase, but they will be supported by a working force of larger proportion. Work-life expectancy has increased and death rates are being reduced through the whole life span, which means that the average family's risk of losing its wage-earner prematurely is also reduced. Finally, more women of all ages are working.

If anything, the aged in our day are becoming considerably less dependent and—often with partial incomes or homes of their own—are not necessarily wholly without resources. Another encouraging aspect is their share in the continually increasing national product to be divided among all of our people. There is need, through pensions, savings and other devices, to see that preparation is made for the non-earning years, but with proper planning the individual can have adequate resources. As far as the national income is concerned, the financing of non-productive years after age 65 should become less and less an economic burden to the nation.

... Quite A Record

In 1903 there were 466 fireworks deaths in the United States. Last year there was only one. Quite a record of progress.

Back in 1903 a rather ridiculous looking machine was just sputtering into being. Last year that machine—evolving from the ungainly horseless carriage into the sleek and powerful modern automobile—claimed 407 lives during the Fourth of July holiday.

Thus the net gain in our efforts to avoid holiday self-destruction seems to be about zero. Yet there is a lesson to be learned here.

Fireworks deaths on the Fourth have been almost eliminated because thinking persons revolted at such senseless killing, and state by state the sale and use of dangerous fireworks were prohibited.

No one, of course, is advocating that the sale or use of automobiles be banned.

But we strongly urge the outlawing of their misuse.

Most people want to use their cars safely. But in every society there is always a minority of reckless and irresponsible drivers who turn a deaf ear to all appeals for prudent and commonsense behavior.

It is for this group that the National Safety Council and the International Association of Chiefs of Police have jointly recommended a rigid law enforcement policy by all police agencies during the Fourth of July celebration.

We strongly support this recommendation. A traffic accident emergency faces this country, with a new all-time high death toll in prospect. It is time to stop temporizing with this problem. The Fourth of July holiday is a good time to start getting tough.

Political Overtones

In fact, there is considerable doubt that the Democratic slate could match the Republican ticket if there were no Presidential election this year, but the fact that there is a Presidential campaign ahead brightens the GOP prospects and lessens Democratic chances.

Two possible developments could change the picture overnight.

One is that President Eisenhower might decide not to run, a possibility about which GOP politicians don't even think, much less talk. Where Ike is expected to generate strength to his party's State ticket in this Commonwealth, the only other Republican candidate for President who would be likely to do so would be Governor Christian A. Herter.

Republican politicians might well dispute the point, but it is our opinion that Adlai Stevenson would be favored to carry Massachusetts over Vice President Nixon or any other GOP candidate for President except Eisenhower and Herter.

The second development that might affect the flow of the Presidential campaign tides in Massachusetts would be the nomination of either Senator John F. Kennedy or Congressional Majority Leader John W. McCormack as the candidate for Vice President.

Earlier in the year, there was a great deal of talk that Stevenson might give Kennedy the nod as his Vice Presidential running mate if he gains the nomination at the August convention in Chicago.

Those reports have subsided to some extent, and a feeling now exists that Adlai might pick Senator Estes Kefauver for the second spot on the Democratic ticket, although that possibility seems a little remote to this observer in view of the bitterness that arose between the two during their campaigning in Florida and California.

Kennedy does not seem to be as prominent in the Vice Presidential picture today as he was a few months ago, but he is still very much in it—if Stevenson gets the nomination.

Should New York's Governor Averell Harriman be the convention choice Kennedy would drop out of the consideration, for Harriman would have to go into another part of the country for his ticket mate.

Either Kennedy or McCormack might loom as a possibility if darkhorse Senator Stuart Symington emerges as the eventual winner of the Democratic conclave.

Incidentally, most well informed Democratic politicians now believe that Stevenson will achieve the nomination on either

Robert F. Murphy and Gibbons are old antagonists. They were the leaders of their respective political parties in the Massachusetts House of Representatives during 1953 and 1954, Gibbons as Speaker, Murphy as the Democratic leader and spokesman. Murphy, of course, is faced with a fight in the primary, and there is no assurance yet that he will be the Democratic standard-bearer who will contest with Gibbons in the November election.

There is even greater doubt whether Representative Joseph D. Ward of Fitchburg will be able to ride out the primary to do battle with Attorney General George Fingold. Ward is also certain to be battling for his political life in September.

Fingold and Whittier are the real veterans of the Republican ticket. Fingold is standing for reelection to his third term as Attorney General. He is a far more accomplished speaker and campaigner today than when he defeated Francis E. Kelley back in 1952.

Senate President Richard I. Furbush is one of the newcomers who will add substantial strength to the GOP slate. Furbush has been able to get Democratic votes in all his elections to the Senate, and he has a host of friends and followers in the Democratic party.

Furbush is one of two members of the Republican ticket who can be certain who his Democratic opponent will be next November. He knows he will be running against Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin. While Cronin has won four elections, he's likely to have his hands full in trying to beat off the challenge Furbush will make against him.

Robert H. Beaudreau of Marlboro and Joseph A. Noble of the Back Bay obviously were selected to add racial balance to the GOP slate. How they will fare in their own quests for election remains to be seen.

Noble was persuaded to step out and seek the nomination for State Auditor when it appeared that no other Republican was interested in running against Auditor Thomas J. Buckley. He had taken opposition at the convention, but the party leaders who had induced him to enter the field were taking no chances on his being defeated, and they lined up enough support for him so that he won in a landslide.

Beaudreau resigned from his post as U. S. Marshal two weeks before the convention, when Senator John Adams of Andover seemingly had the endorsement for State Treasurer almost within his grasp, and then defeated Adams at the convention. Beaudreau obviously had the backing of the ReRepublican machine.

Noble, of course, gives the people of Italian origin representation on the Republican ticket, and Beaudreau does the same for the voters of French descent. They make it possible for Republican orators to go before those blocs of voters and point out to them that they were given consideration in picking the GOP slate.

No politician would gamble very much on Noble's chances of ousting State Auditor Buckley who has won election eight times to the post he holds. There is still considerable uncertainty whether Beaudreau will meet Civil Service Commissioner Clement A. Riley or State Treasurer John P. Kennedy in the election.

Kennedy was turned down by the State convention, but he already is campaigning vigorously for the primary, and squeezing him out of the picture may not be easily accomplished, although Riley is a fairly formidable candidate.

-- Animal Fair --

Mostly Donkeys and Elephants

By ROBERT LESBERG

H. G. Wells once wrote a book called "Things to Come," in which he predicted the happenings of the future. This week's "Animal Fair" is being written before the Massachusetts Republican Convention even starts and we are going to try our hand at this business of predicting—with guaranteed results. As a matter of fact any speculation at all about the results of this august rubber stamp convocation is just plain nonsense. Usually when you write a column for a weekly publication and you are forewarned about a pertinent event if not too important, event that is upcoming between deadline time and publication, the easiest thing to do is to generalize the event to death and avoid like the plague any predictions at all until it's all over. Then, in the next column, you shout as loudly as possible "I told you so" and get down to business knowing that your hindsight has to pay off. In this case, however, not only the writer but every other adult (and most children) in the Commonwealth can see into the future and come up with the 1956 Republican ticket as conjured up in Worcester by the big brass of the state GOP. As a matter of fact we are all in favor of more Republican conventions so we can write our column early in the week and have all the results catch up with us by publication time. At any rate, you will forgive us if we do not print the ponderous list of sure-bet nominees. Read any newspaper of the last month and you'll be in the know, as much as reading them elsewhere in this edition of the Graphic.

The amazing thing is that all the GOP leaders were very blunt about letting out the word that the party ticket was a closed affair and that they would not tolerate any tampering with it by the rank and file members. This was strictly a take it or leave it proposition for the average delegate, and if one word could sum up the whole convention that word is SAFE. The unsound elements in the party had been cleared away long before Route 9 got cluttered with pictures of three story tenement houses bearing the legend "Whittier Slept Here," and those of the undesirable that got in the front door of the Worcester auditorium soon got their ears pinned back. Poor old Elmer Nelson, whose crime of getting a Republican elected Governor twice in a row apparently didn't get well with current bosses recently got his comeuppance from the state committee. Word is that he has taken up the cudgels for one Sen. Adams, an aspirant for the State Treasurer endorsement. We now switch from the past to the future tense long enough to predict that Robert H. Boudreau will be the Republican nominee for State Treasurer and Elmer Nelson will vote Democratic in November. It will be interesting to watch the vote of the Newton delegation to the convention to see if they are in on the hanging of Mr. Nelson. Newton Republicans have been with winners for so long they haven't had to worry about the principle of anything political. Now, after a successful career as a professional Republican the word has been passed that Mr. Nelson is no longer acceptable and must go. His support of Senators Adams should be a gauge of his support as much as the Senator's and they both know it. When Adams loses (see prediction above it will mean more nails in the political coffin of Mr. Nelson, and those who are helping to pound the nails must certainly realize the periphery of their action. The Republicans in Newton should certainly be expected to stand up and be counted in this matter of the public downfall of a high party leader. In other words, when the word was passed down from the top that Mr. Nelson had to go, did any of the GOP brass in Newton think about whether it was right or wrong, or whether it was the best thing for the party, or think at all—or did they just nod their heads and shout "Yes Sir" and automatically voted Nay on Mr. Nelson. Which is the inherent trouble with the Republican hierarchy in Newton. They really know how to get the word from upstairs and follow the line. For what used to be a Republican stronghold it is amazing that Newton was nothing but a lazy Yes Man for the Republican Party and never had a thought or idea of its own. The vote on Adams-Nelson will bear this out.

-- League of Women Voters --

The third and fourth in a series of board meetings of the League of Women Voters of Newton were held last week at the Newton Highlands Workshop, under the direction of Mrs. Seymour S. Getter, president. Program planning and activities for the following year were the principal items on the agenda.

Mrs. David B. Cooper, Unit Organization Chairman, reported that six units have been formed to meet in the following areas:

Newtonville, Tuesday evening; Newtonville, Wednesday morning; Newton Highlands, Wednesday evening; Oak Hill, Thursday morning; West Newton, Thursday morning; Waban, Thursday evening.

Units are discussion groups which will meet during the second and fourth weeks of the month, starting in the fall. Mrs. Howard Arbetter is Unit Organization Vice-Chairman.

A series of membership teas during the weeks of September 17 and September 24 have been planned by the membership committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles E. Ryan, and her vice-chairman, Mrs. Robert Ashenbush. League membership is open to any woman citizen interested in the aim of the League, that of promoting active and intelligent citizen participation in government. Any Newton woman interested in joining the League may reach Mrs. Ryan at LA 5-7448.

Mrs. Getter led a discussion on the recent Joint Convention of the General Court which defeated the League supported bill which would remove Constitutional restrictions on taxation, and thereby permit the legislature freedom in deciding the best means of taxation for the Commonwealth. Replies to letters from the League on this subject were received from Senator Richard Lee and Representatives Donald L. Gibbs, Arthur G. Heaney and George E. Rawson.

A report on the "Principles of Taxation" and "Principles of State Aid" was made given by Mrs. John Locke, Economic Policies Chairman. She outlined plans for a meeting in November to discuss the "Distribution of State Aid." Mrs. Locke will be assisted by Mrs. Emil Rothstein, Economic Policies Vice-Chairman in planning the meeting.

June 29 is the publication date of "Massachusetts State Government, A Citizens Handbook", a comprehensive work on the activities of the state government, written by the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts. Mrs. Harvey

MRS. DAVID A. BARRETT

MISS ELIZABETH COOLEY WEDS MR. DAVID A. BARRETT

A princess line wedding gown of silk and Chantilly lace ending in a cathedral train and a Juliet lace cap with fingertip illusion veil were worn by Miss Elizabeth Cooley for her marriage last night to Mr. David Trinity Church, Newton Centre, was the setting for the eight o'clock candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. Howard R. Dunbar. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hewitt Cooley of Newton Centre, carried a bouquet of white orchids, roses and stephanotis as her father escorted her to the altar.

Mrs. Cooley wore pink camellias with her gown of blue lace over taffeta and matching accessories. The maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Cooley, sister of the bride, wore a lavender chiffon waltz-length gown trimmed with tiny white daisies. With her matching accessories and cap of lavender taffeta she carried

Moore Not A Candidate For Senate

A meeting was held recently by a group of enthusiastic supporters of Norman E. Moore, Administrative Assistant to the Attorney General, to urge him to be a candidate for the Suffolk-Middlesex Senatorial seat vacated by Senator Lee.

At this meeting Mr. Moore stated that he felt he could serve the people of the City of Newton best by continuing his job in the Attorney General's office. He also stated that the Republican party must be well supported by the people in the coming primaries and also the election in November. It is Mr. Moore's opinion that the Republicans should not be lulled to sleep by apathy, that this will be an easy contest for any of our Republican aspirants on the State level.

Mr. Moore has been the Administrative Assistant to the Attorney General for the past three years and will continue to encourage all of the people to back Attorney General Fingold in his bid for re-election in the fall. Mr. Moore stated that the Attorney General's record will prove to the people he is an outstanding administrator as well as the chief law enforcement officer of the state. In declining the bid for the senatorial seat, Mr. Moore said that at a later date he may consider running for public office.

Miss Patricia Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Smith of 11 Channing street, Newton has been awarded a one semester tuition scholarship at Gordon College in Beverly Farms.

Day of Double Decision

Both Opportunity and Obligation

"I intend to support, as I always have, the continuation of our foreign aid program," said Senator Leverett Saltonstall at commencement exercises of Newton Junior College last Friday. "I have always supported this mutual security principle and program. I believe it is one of the strongest elements in the maintaining of our own security here in the United States. Funds for such a purpose help build up our own defense right here. The historic Marshall Plan was announced in Massachusetts in 1947 as our first post-war effort in this direction.

"If we are to ask our young men and women to serve in defense of our nation, we should, in every way possible, get assistance from friendly nations abroad. The way they can help us most is by building up their own armed strength. The way they can best assist us is by providing manpower for their own defense and in that way for ours. Mutual security to me means just that—friendly nations helping one another to preserve peace and freedom through their cooperative efforts.

"I deny emphatically the statement I sometimes hear: 'The day of optimism is over; the future has never been so uncertain.' Although, to be sure, we have grave problems confronting us as a nation today, we have also the strength and the resources to meet and to solve those problems exactly as our forefathers solved theirs. A healthy optimism is always essential. Certainly we can have confidence in the youth of America. I have always had it. What others have done before them, they can do and do better, however great the problems of our time appear to be.

"This is an age of double decision for the young people of America," continued Senator Saltonstall. "Every young man and woman must ask himself or herself two questions: What do I want to do in the years ahead in terms of occupation, profession or career? How, at the same time, can I best fulfill by obligations to my country?"

"We have entered an era when service to this nation in its defense, and in defense of freedom, must be taken into full account by every man and woman of whatever age. Very likely that obligation to the nation will be military in the case of our young men. Very possibly in the case of both young men and women, it will take the shape of public service in some form. There is no longer any personal choice to be made by itself. Service to our nation enters that choice in one form or another.

"With every year that passes, the Congress does its best to try to make clear to our young men the ways in which they can best serve the nation in the meeting of their military and reserve obligations. Our colleges, in cooperation with the government, try to point out those career opportunities through which public service can be given practical and satisfying meaning.

"To serve our government' no longer has a narrow or restricted sense. It means simply, in this day of the awful atom and the tensions which exist everywhere, the service of this country as a whole and the defense of freedom everywhere.

"This day of double decision is, therefore, a day of both opportunity and obligation. These must be equally considered if this country and the blessings of liberty are to survive and to prevail."

DR. DANIEL J. HOLLAND

Installed Head Of The Mass. Dental Society

Dr. Daniel J. Holland, of 194 Otis street, West Newton, a prominent oral surgeon, with offices at 1146 Beacon street in Brookline, was installed as president of the Massachusetts Dental Society for 1956-1957 during its annual session at the Hotel Statler, Boston.

Dr. Holland, in his many capacities as oral surgeon at many of the larger hospitals in Boston, such as the Massachusetts General, Brooks and Faulkner, is also consultant to a large group of hospitals, namely Boston State Hospital, Quincy City Hospital, Chelsea Memorial, Waltham General and Boston Dispensary. In 1951, he was made consultant in oral surgery for the United States First Army.

Combining his most active practice in the specialized field of oral surgery with lecturing throughout the United States and the authoring of many articles and books, Dr. Holland is former professor of oral surgery at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine and editor of many publications in surgery. He has acted as chairman of many committees on professional education and is serving as director in oral surgery for the American Cancer Society. He holds many praiseworthy citations for his excellence in the phase of oral surgery in dentistry. All Massachusetts dentists, and those throughout New England, look forward to a brilliant year under the able leadership of Dr. Holland.

ROGER P. SONNABEND of Newton, vice-president and general manager of the Hotel Corporation of America (which includes Hotel Roosevelt, New York City; the Mayflower, Washington, D. C.; the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago; Hotel Cleveland, Cleveland, and the Somerset Hotel, Boston) has been appointed vice chairman of the New England committee to work with Chairman Joseph Kaplan of Newton. Mr. Sonnabend is active in various communal philanthropic activities and is an active member of the Young Presidents' Organization. He has been an active member of the hospital's New England fund raising committee. The National Jewish Hospital at Denver is the well-known, free, non-sectarian medical center for tuberculosis and chest diseases. It maintains New England regional offices at 73 Tremont street, Boston.

New Warehouse of Jordan Marsh Co. Opened In Auburndale

Jordan Marsh has recently completed its newest warehouse, centrally situated on Route 128 in Auburndale, as another step in the store's overall program for expansion.

The total area of the warehouse, completely designed for efficiency, covers more than 11 acres or 506,750 square feet.

At the warehouse will be stored all furniture, electrical appliances, television sets, flood covering, bedding and large sporting goods items. It will serve as a speedy distribution point to the main Boston store and all branch stores as well as becoming the depot for the furniture delivery fleet.

The new modern garage for loading for delivery service can accommodate up to 38 trucks at one time. For freight coming into the warehouse, there are 24 receiving doors which can handle 24 trucks or 12 freight cars at one time.

There is a complete service department for testing and serving television at the warehouse. There is also a high fidelity sound-proof room for testing hi-fi equipment.

A special carpet workroom also has been designed to speed up handling and cutting. The carpets are received in their own section and are hoisted or lowered by crane-like cranes to the workroom or modern track-rack storage.

One of the features in the wood floor cutting space which is 125 feet long and 25 feet wide. The rolls of carpeting are unrolled by power and are then ready for cutting, binding and sewing.

On the floor for furniture there is a furniture finishing workroom, completely equipped with cabinet workrooms, finishing rooms, and spray booths for finishing unpainted furniture.

There is also a special area for all wheel goods from power lawn mowers to bicycles. Here, these are all carefully inspected and tested by Jordan's staff of trained mechanics.

A preview of the operation of the warehouse was held recently for officials of Newton. Heading the list of dignitaries were Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr. and Wendell R. Bauckman, president of the Board of Aldermen. Members of the Board of Aldermen, Board of Assessors and other city officials attended the preview.

Early Copy Next Week

Due to the fact that next Wednesday is Independence Day and a legal holiday, the deadline for all news and advertising to appear in The Graphic in the issue of July 5, will be advanced. The deadline for receipt of Classified Advertising copy will be Tuesday noon. The deadline for all display advertising and also news copy will be Monday at 5 o'clock. The Graphic will be delivered to the homes, as usual, on the first mail next Thursday morning. We respectfully ask that all advertisers and those who wish news items in next week's issue to keep the above schedule in mind. It would be extremely helpful if news correspondents and advertisers who can do so, will submit their copy to The Graphic office on Friday and Saturday of this week. This will greatly facilitate matters for next week's issue and such early copy will receive priority attention.

Need for close partnership between lay leaders and professional workers in the Y.M.C.A. was stressed at the installation dinner - meeting of the board of directors of the Newton Y.M.C.A. held Wednesday, June 20, by John G. Appleton, associate secretary of the Two-State Executive Committee of the Y.M.C.A.

Noting that the Newton "Y" annually serves more than 4,000 persons on a membership basis plus hundreds in other important ways, Mr. Appleton charged the new board members and officers with their responsibilities.

"The 79-year-old Newton 'Y' is a strong link in a strong state, national and world organization, Mr. Appleton stated. The four new board members installed were David K. Burkhart, H. Edgar Pray, Franklin D. Jerome and Edwin F. Weidig. Members who were re-installed were Wilbur W. Bullen, Dr. Herbert G. Dunphy, Ralph B. Emery, and Harlan W. Kingsbury. Benjamin F. Louis, and Charles H. Myers. All will serve three-year terms.

Officers reelected at the annual meeting in May, and formally installed Wednesday night were George R. Strandberg, president; Fred A. Hawkins, vice president; Eldred M. Peterson, clerk; Charles E.

Lee Leaving Senate to Devote time to Law Practice; Putnam and Keith in Move to Upset Veteran Congressmen

The fact that the legislative sessions on Beacon Hill have run so late into the year is causing the retirement of one Republican member of the Massachusetts Senate and may cost the GOP the seat that he holds.

When Senator Richard H. Lee of Newton decided that he would not stand for reelection this year, the motivating factor which influenced his decision was the tremendous amount of time he was obliged to devote to his senatorial duties.

Like Lee, a good many legislators are turning over in their own minds the question whether they can afford the financial sacrifice of continuing to serve their districts on Beacon Hill. A near-record number of House and Senate members will give up their seats this year either to seek promotion to higher offices or to return to their own businesses and professions.

An impression exists in some quarters that Lee is leaving the Senate in order to accept appointment either to a judgeship or to some other important State post.

That is not the fact. It is possible that he may be offered some vacancy that might occur later in the year, but his present intention is to devote his full time to his law practice.

Graphic Accorded National Honor in Newspaper Contest

Additional honors came to The Graphic last week at the annual convention of the Accredited Home Newspapers of America, Inc., which was held in New Orleans, La., when it was announced that this paper had been awarded an Honorable Mention citation in the contest for General Excellence.

This contest, entered into by newspapers from all parts of the country was judged on the basic factors of whether or not the paper is printed in its own plant, the quality of photos and other reproductions and layout of pages, readability of type, faces and general attractiveness of the overall paper.

The judging in the contest was done by a panel consisting of Prof. George Simmons of the Journalism Department of Tulane University; Mrs. Edwina Frederick, president of the Advertising Club of New Orleans; and Arthur Felts, City Editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune.

First award in this General Excellence Classification went to the Chicago Edgewater-Uptown News. In making the awards the judges stated that "the competition was so keen and close that they recommended honorable mention citations" in addition to the citation to the winning newspaper.

A few years ago The Graphic won a similar citation in a New England-wide contest and several years ago this paper, in another contest of newspapers, was awarded first prize for the best Social Pages.

The award made at New Orleans was accepted for The Graphic at the convention by Richard W. Davis, President of The Transcript Publications.

ANIMAL FAIR -- Mostly Donkeys and Elephants

By ROBERT LESBERG

Now that President Eisenhower is recovering so nicely from his recent operation, Republican chairman Leonard Hall has decided that it's time for a change at the hospital. If you keep an eye on the front door you would see a steady procession of doctors leaving the premises while a still larger group of determined artisans charge up the stairs and make tracks for the presidential suite. These happy workers with a glint in their eye are greeted eagerly by Hall and are thrust speedily into the inner sanctum with an accompanying rousing cheer of "Up and at 'Em". If, incidentally, from your vantage point outside you were to wonder at how one man could cheer so rousing, it would be only fair to confess that Mr. Hall has round the clock assistance from many assorted high ranking medico-politicians such as Dick Nixon (whose current national popularity now equals that of the Black Socks). Engine Charlie is also a wonderful rousing cheerer when Hall can make him stick to the script. Engine Charlie has a room reserved for him down the corridor for his recurrent hoof-in-the-mouth disease, and he's been spending a lot of time there lately.

The well kept secret up to now is that all these eagerly greeted men are a part of the most important effort of the 1956 Republican campaign. They are all tailors, and their job is essentially a simple one. They are fitting the President out with the longest and widest and strongest set of coattails yet to be seen anywhere in these United States. As a matter of fact, these coattails are going to end up being about 48 states wide and about five months long. The way Len Hall figures it that ought to do the trick, and the sooner the trick is pulled off, the better.

Tucked away in the northeast section of these mammoth coattails is a smidgeon of cloth marked "Massachusetts," and if your eyesight is really good you can dig a little deeper and discover the city of Newton. To help in the search, look for the only patch in the state that is colored true-blue, and which is turning slightly frayed at the edges since the last election. For here is the heart of the problem in Massachusetts, and if the coattail can be made wide enough to somehow sweep through Newton—even a glancing sweep—it might prove helpful. If this happens then maybe, just maybe, a semblance of a Republican victory can be conjured up or at least give the appearance of having been conjured up. If this happens then maybe, just maybe, the banner of true-blue can be whipped from the coattail and hung again from the masthead before anyone suspects that this citadel of Republican virtue, this once sure bet, safe thing, we're so solid we keep elephants instead of dogs bastion of the one party system is on the way to becoming a politically balanced city. One sure bit of evidence is the flurry of activity from our embattled

Congressman Curtis, who has sighted the sails of Jackson J. Holtz once more coming over the horizon to do battle. The fact that Mr. Curtis could barely hold the district in 1954 after having a Republican legislature go to all the trouble some years back of making it fit for nothing but a Republican candidate bodes anything but good for him this year and he apparently knows it. From the amount of franked (free) mail that has been erupting from his Washington office lately you'd think Mr. Curtis isn't absolutely convinced that the presidential coattail will be forthcoming to help him get around the determined Mr. Holtz. And maybe he's right.

Lame Man Grabs $2600 In Rings At Newton Shop

Two men, one limping, robbed the G. R. Ware Jewelers Inc. of $2600 in rings last Friday at 1:30 p.m. The limping man, who used a cane, helped himself to three rings from the display window while his confederate engaged the owner's mother, Mrs. Grace Ware of Bowdoin street, Waltham, in conversation. When Mrs. Ware discovered what was going on, the thieves fled. Stolen were a $2200 emerald and diamond ring, a $115 woman's wedding ring, and a $285 engagement ring. In a rear office, unaware of the theft, were Mrs. Ruby Ferguson, 42, of Hays road, Waltham, a sister of the owner, G. Richard Ware of 29 Gore avenue, Waltham; Basil E. Clare of Sudbury, a member of the firm, and Russell Leland, 36, of Woburn, a watchmaker. In 1947, the firm, located at 256 Washington street, Newton Corner, was robbed of its safe containing $12,000 in jewels. The lame man is described as tall, thin, and wearing unmatched dark trousers and jacket, and a brown straw hat. His accomplice is tall, in his mid-50's, of medium build and wearing a brown suit and hat.

TELE-NEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

The sensitivity of your television receiver is a "two sided coin" as far as reception goes. Manufacturers continually have tried to make the TV set more sensitive, so that even a weak signal can be brought in clearly. But that same sensitivity to electronic impulses in the air can backfire - and produce interference that shows up in the picture. So it has been necessary to use shielding and other techniques to make the set reject unwanted impulses. It has to be sensitive and "insensitive" at the same time.

All kinds of electronic impulses can be picked up by the TV set. It can pick up the same signal twice, for instance, if the signal which reaches it first also "bounces back" from some nearby metal surface for a second visit. (This is what ordinarily produces "ghosts" in the picture.) Even a nearby TV set can be a source of trouble, if your neighbor's set "radiates" traces of the signal it receives. In earlier TV sets this radiation was a major problem, but it has been minimized by shielding parts of the set carefully.

The more powerful the signal which reaches your set, the more it will tend to "drown out" other interfering impulses... another reason why the proper antenna installation is so vital. We specialize in solving antenna problems... in service or installation.

Whether the Republicans can hold Lee's seat in the Senate against the Democratic fight that will be made to capture it, is uncertain. Indeed, there is no certainty that Lee himself could have survived next November's election. He won by an extremely narrow margin in 1954 after a very close contest.

Because he is well known in his district and has made so many campaigns in it, it is considered that Lee is the strongest contender who could have carried the GOP banner in the battle to retain the seat.

That may or may not be the case, but Democratic State Senate Leader John E. Powers, who is mapping his party's drive for control of the Senate, believes that Democratic chances of winning Lee's seat are brighter as a result of the Senator's withdrawal.

Representative Donald B. Gibbs of Newton is leaving the House to seek Lee's seat, and it is generally anticipated that he will be the Republican nominee.

Lee's narrow escape from defeat in 1954 occurred at a time when a Democratic tide was running. If President Eisenhower and Lieutenant Governor Whittier can generate a Republican trend next fall, the political climate may be more favorable for Gibbs than it was for Lee, two years ago.

Right now, however, it appears that a bitter struggle will be waged next November for the seat Lee is relinquishing.

Veteran GOP Congressmen Face Fight...

It is highly unusual for a sitting Republican Congressman to be confronted with real opposition in his own party. Ordinarily, he can have renomination for the asking, and ambitious GOP politicians, with their eyes on a seat on Washington's Capitol Hill, generally bide their time, waiting for a retirement from office to pave the way for them.

This year, however, two prominent Republican Congressmen are faced with stiff fights in the primary, and it's possible that one or both of them might be upset, when the results of the September battles are written into the record books.

Representative Harold Putnam of Needham is giving up his seat in the Massachusetts House to challenge Congressman Richard Wigglesworth of Milton, and State Senator Hastings Keith of East Bridgewater is leaving his post in the upper legislative chamber to challenge Congressman Donald W. Nicholson of Wareham.

Putnam, a member of the liberal wing in the Legislature, is trying to unseat one of the most conservative GOP Congressmen. The success of his drive may depend in part on how much backing he receives from his fellow legislators.

An attempt already is being made to cut Putnam down, and one columnist pointedly brought out that he supported Henry A. Wallace in 1948.

Representative Putnam, however, is colorful and a hard worker. He has built up contacts and connections in the Republican party, and he may be a stronger candidate than is generally realized.

Senator Keith, whose family has been politically prominent for a generation in the Brockton-Cape area, will give Congressman Nicholson all the fight he can handle and possibly more than he can overcome.

The battles will be waged in districts where the Republican nomination generally are considered tantamount to election.

Furcolo Expected to Beat Opposition

The likelihood that former State Treasurer Foster Furcolo will beat off any opposition and gain the Democratic nomination for Governor in the September primary, is becoming stronger with each passing day and week.

A possibility still exists that District Attorney Garrett H. Byrne will step out to challenge Furcolo, but it is gradually dwindling. Time is now running against Byrne who is the only prospective contender with the strength to defeat Furcolo in September.

On the basis of his past performances Furcolo cannot be considered a political powerhouse in a Democratic primary, in which the bulk of the vote would be cast in Greater Boston. If Byrne remains out of the field, however, Furcolo's opposition would not be of a caliber that would be likely to cause any consternation in his camp.

The only avowed candidate against Furcolo is Thomas H. Buckley of Abington, who retired on a disability pension from his position as chairman of the State Commission on Administration and Finance three and a half years ago and is now employed by the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority.

Buckley did not contest for the gubernatorial endorsement at the Democratic State convention in Worcester, presumably because he recognized that he had no chance of getting it and decided that a one-sided defeat there would further weaken his position which at best is not very strong.

Although he won a series of elections as State Auditor back in the 1930's and paved the way for the present Auditor Thomas J. Buckley, the Abington Buckley has no organized political backing of any great scope.

Those Democratic politicians, who are now warning that Buckley should not be underestimated in a primary fight with Furcolo, base their estimates on two opinions: 1. That Buckley will get some votes on his name. 2. That Furcolo is not basically a strong contender.

It is a fact that it took a good deal of political pulling and hauling in 1952 by the then ex-Governor Dever's machine to help Furcolo achieve his party's nomination for State Treasurer.

Furcolo, however, was not as well known then as he is now. Dever had persuaded him to give up his seat in Congress to accept appointment as State Treasurer in order to strengthen the Democratic State ticket. Under those circumstances Dever could not afford to see him turned down in a primary. It would have been a blow to his own prestige. After a fairly close brush with defeat, Furcolo staggered through the '52 primary and went on to win election as Treasurer the following November.

While he may not be strong enough even today to upset a really top-flight vote-getter in a Democratic primary, Furcolo is substantially more potent at the polls than he was in 1952, as a result of his campaign for the U. S. Senate in '54 and his victory at the Democratic State convention a little less than three weeks ago.

Ex-Governor Dever, incidentally, has certainly endeavored to pay off the political debt he owed to Furcolo for the latter's action in shifting from Congress to the Treasurer's office just about four years ago at this time.

In addition to pulling Furcolo through the 1952 primary, Dever maneuvered behind the scenes to get him the endorsement of the 1954 Democratic State convention for U. S. Senator and the nod of this year's conclave for Governor. Dever no longer has any machine to wheel into a primary fight; nor does he command any great influence with the Democratic voters after being out of office for four years. But Furcolo now should be able to go forward on his own.

A factor which may militate against the Abington Buckley, if he goes through with his announced intention of running for Governor, is that there may be a second Buckley in the field.

Howard Buckley of Needham, prominent Boston College graduate and former West Roxbury realtor, has nomination papers in circulation as a candidate for Governor.

The Needham Buckley was numbered among the Furcolo supporters at the recent Democratic convention in Worcester. His entrance into the gubernatorial field would be a blow to the Abington Buckley. Former Attorney General Francis E. Kelly has indicated that he may run for Governor, but up to the time that this is written he has not definitely committed himself on doing so.

While Kelly is still a rugged, two-fisted campaigner who might leave some damaging scars on a primary adversary, it would appear that his political star has pretty well set. He sought the Democratic gubernatorial endorsement two years ago and was decisively beaten by Robert F. Murphy.

District Attorney Byrne has been under strong pressure for two and a half weeks to move into the fight for the Governorship. He has not yet made his final decision, but the fact that he has not already yielded to the arguments directed at him, is creating the impression that he is not likely to do so.

THE EAGLE FLIES HIGH!

What a thrill for America's youth

Joyous, free, on the Fourth of July

What a heritage, theirs, in all truth,

As the star-spangled Eagle flies high!

Judgment Should Only Follow Evidence and Proof

Two patients died in a hospital. Claims and accusations have been made. Some people quick to judge. There have also been some inaccuracies in the newspapers.

The real facts will not be known until after the inquest, and the final reports of the District Attorney have been given.

In the past, present and in the future, and in all cities and towns where accidents can and do happen, good and well-meaning people, concerned and shocked, give voice and opinion as to who, what, and why is responsible. No thought now of all good done up to the time of error, and the good to be done from now on by the hospital. (This above all, let us well remember). The greater percentage are sympathetic, reasonable and sorrowful for all parties involved in the tragic happening as many have known succor at this fine hospital. Let us consider the unselfish services, the administrations, relief of pain, cure of disease, and the saving of many lives, from one generation to the next, hour after hour, day after day, year after year.

Hospitals are "Medical beehives". When one thinks of the many chances of error possible, and the extremely few errors that are made, "It is remarkable and most gratifying", (hospitals rarely operate at a profit).

The hospital where two patients died, has a good name, is highly recommended, and has a very fine record. It is staffed with most skillful and highly ethical doctors of medicine.

"Now, here we have a change of mental pace." Something rare, Godly and noble. With the great majority of the people expressing sincere and deep sorrow for both the dead and their close ones, and they who were responsible for the accident.

The words of high principle, understanding, merciful and forgiving, were uttered to the Press.

The widow of one of the dead, in her sorrow and suffering of great loss, did publicly tell the members of the Community: "Do not lose faith in the hospital."

Poets, Preachers and others cannot lose words more meaningful, more forgiving, compassionate, more Christ-like than these. No talk of suit instead: "Father forgive them." They have performed too many miracles to be condemned.

Here is an average understanding woman of true character, raising her eyes to her Maker in Heaven, asking him to give her the charity, humility and strength to shout to her community brothers and sisters, the hopeful and encouraging words, while fresh in her deep sorrow, loss and mourning.

"Do not lose faith in your hospital." Nothing can be added to or taken away from this sentence. It fits so well with the one of the Cross.

It has almost the same meaning. This is the widow's way of saying or telling those who were responsible for the accident.

"Do not despair or be low in your heart, but carry on and repetition of the error.

Make sure to take the necessary give of your service with commensures to guard against a Relieve the suffering, and passion. There is still much pain as suffering to come.

This, then is one of the many ways to interpret the meaning of the words that Jesus could have used in "Sermon on the Mount."

"Do not lose faith in your hospital." May this admonition, these words spoken through grief and tears, of real life drama given to the press made indelible on peoples minds and may they in time become immortal words.

"Do not break faith with your hospital." It belongs to you.

A REPLY TO MR. COOKE

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Last week Mr. Lawrence Cooke announced his candidacy for the Democrat nomination for State Representative in the 4th Middlesex District. This of course is not the District in which I presently have the honor to serve, but in his statement the gentleman took a verbal swing at the entire Newton delegation, thus I feel free to comment upon it.

He said "The role of Newton should realize how shabbily they have been represented through the many years of Republican representation. The incumbent representatives have long neglected the local interests and needs of the Middlesex District in the apparent belief that their sole function is to slavishly serve the cause of the Republican Party." Then he went on to say the State is considering putting the Toll Road through certain specified sections of Newton, with no word of protest from Newton legislators.

Now I suppose Mr. Cooke is a reasonably intelligent gentleman and am sure he is just as interested as the rest of us in the welfare of our beloved City. He has run twice, unsuccessfully, for this office and therefore must have learned something. But in making charges such as those above he is either talking with tongue in cheek or indicating an abysmal ignorance of what has been going on. Surely he must know the State is not considering doing anything to the Toll Road. He ought to know that several years ago, under a Democrat administration, a Turnpike Authority was created with full and complete powers at which time the State gave up all control whatsoever over construction of the Toll Road. I wonder how Mr. Cooke would have voted on the question had he been a member of the Legislature at the time. Incidentally Mr. Callahan, Chairman of the Turnpike Authority, can confirm the fact that many hours of time and effort have been contributed by Newton legislators as well as City officials trying to protect the interests of our people in this matter.

Who, almost single-handedly, procured a footbridge across the Charles River so that the children of Newton can use the new bathing pool in Watertown? — A Newton Republican.

Who organized and led a successful fight last year to retain the station stop at Woodland station, in spite of strong efforts by the B & A Railroad to abolish it? — A Newton Republican.

Who only last week fought the powerful Democratic Ways and Means Committee in the House and secured passage of legislation to help retain its natural state some of the beautiful park land on Hammond Pond Parkway? — Newton Republicans, of course.

We are not always successful, but I think our record will stand up pretty well, and Mr. Cooke is treading on dangerous ground when he infers that Newton's Representatives knowingly or otherwise neglect the interests of the City. I am confident he would not deliberately try to fool the people of Newton, and I suggest to him that his fellow-citizens are much more interested in fundamental issues about which there can be an honest difference of opinion than innuendoes for which there are no bases in fact.

Mr. Cooke's right to criticize is unquestionable and a bulwark of our two party system, but let him remember that right carries with it the obligation to be specific. Unjust criticism can be a deadly boomerang.

Arthur G. Heaney,
State Representative

INDIFFERENCE

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Yesterday might have been election day, though one would hardly have known it in the city of Newton. Perhaps more voters would have arrived at the polls if they had been reminded by signs on the sidewalks designating polling places.

The indifference demonstrated at this election seems clearly to indicate a need for revision in our method of nominating our presidential candidates.

Mrs. Mitchell Marcus

NEEDHAM STREET

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I just read an article in your paper about the heavy traffic and congestion on Needham street.

Far worse than any bottlenecks is the fact that a very small playground is located on Needham street by the bridge and children that play on the sidewalk and not in the playground because of the danger of crossing.

I wish the City of Newton would give this fact their careful attention when they air out this problem and see if something can't be done to make it safer for our Newton children.

Mrs. Ruth B. Tucker

YOU HELPED US REACH THE $20,000,000 MARK

You are cordially invited to the Grand Opening of the new building of the Watertown Federal Savings and Loan Association at Main and Church Streets. Definite opening date next Winter will be announced later.

You

did it. By you, we mean you who keep savings — large or small — at Watertown Federal Savings. It is you who have helped us pass $20 million in assets.

And it is you who have helped us grow too big for our old building at 56 Main Street, and to need and merit and build a fine, larger, new building catty-cornered across the street.

You, actually, are the owners of this business and of that new building — because this association is mutually owned by its savers

We, who manage it, just work here.

We are strictly a local association — all our directors live in our community. That word "Federal" in our name means simply that we benefit by government rules and supervision, and by insurance of all savings accounts by an agency of the U. S. Government.

WHY SAVERS LIKE US

Savers have liked us for many decades for our record of careful management, and for our safety. They have liked us even more, and have kept more savings here, since we took a federal charter in 1953 and the insurance of savings which goes with it.

They like us because their savings here are available, at any time.

They like us because we have never missed a dividend since we were established in 1888. (currently 3%, compounded semi-annually, with bonus of 1% extra for systematic savings left for certain lengths of time).

SAVINGS and LOAN'S 125th ANNIVERSARY

They like us because we are one of the members of the good old savings and loan business, which was started in America exactly 125 years ago, and which today has total aggregate assets of $400 billion! (Our new building is, in a way, a celebration of this anniversary).

They like us because we welcome every saver, whether he comes with $1, $5, $10, $500, $5,000 or $10,000. The little fellow with $1 is as much appreciated by us as one with $thousands. (We've seen so many of the little ones grow big in our time!)

Come on in and grow with us!

THAT NEW BUILDING

We enjoy watching the growth of your new building across the street, at the corner of Main and Church. We'll be proud when it has its Grand Opening (now scheduled for the end of this year). You are invited to that.

It will be a humdinger of a building.

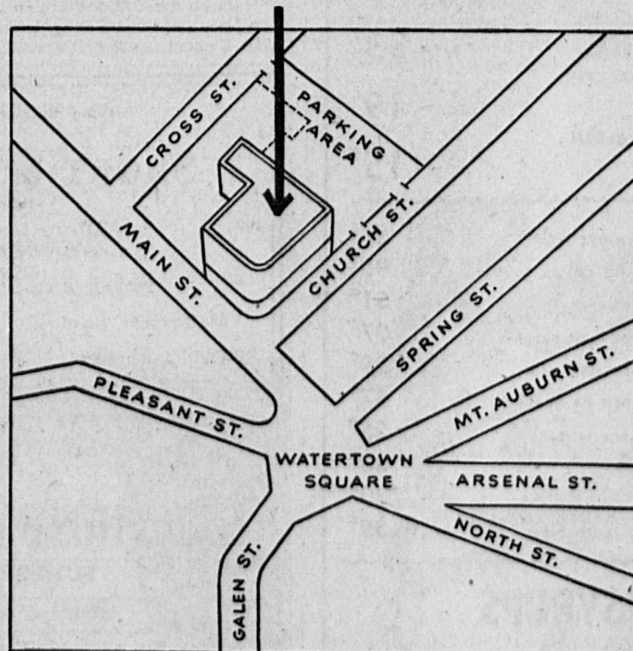

It will be a thing of beauty in Watertown Square — with every possible feature for your saving convenience and comfort, and to serve people who want home loans.

This building will be a structure ultra-modern in design with a handsome and dignified exterior, pleasantly combining granite and brick and large areas of glass. A distinctive feature will be a louvre extending 125 feet along Main and Church Streets, with 12-foot-high vertical fins, designed to admit a soft diffused light throughout the office area without admitting direct rays of the sun.

Our new offices will be completely air-conditioned throughout. We will have free parking accommodations for 40 customer cars, heated sidewalks, and a sidewalk teller window where you may transact business without entering the building. This window will be open before and after usual banking hours, so that you may leave savings or make withdrawals or make payments on loans, on your way to or from work. (Of course you may still mail in savings or home loan payments, if you prefer).

Watertown Federal Savings now numbers among its customers (savers and home loan borrowers) more than 15,000 people in the Watertown, Newton, Belmont, Waltham and surrounding areas.

Large Number At Reception To Mrs. Franklin E. Leland

About three hundred attended the reception for Mrs. Franklin E. Leland in the Parish Hall of Centenary Methodist Church in Auburndale, last Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Leland has resigned as organist and choir director after thirty years of service to the church. Among those present were many former members of the choir and the parish. In the receiving line with Mrs. Leland were the following members of long standing of the senior choir: Miss Gladys Cooney, George Eycleshymer, Mrs. Howard Fowle, John Frude, Mrs. I. M. Hamilton, Miss Pearl Hilliard, Mrs. David Jones, Russell MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Nordstrom, Miss Lillian Ross, Mrs. Harry Wilson, also Mrs. Gordon Kibbe, daughter of Mrs. Leland; and the Rev. and Mrs. Sydney Adams. The guest book, that was signed by all, was presented to Mrs. Leland by Jan Lee Clement on behalf of the Junior Choir.

Letters of tribute from the Rev. Stephen Callender, Dr. Maurice Bullock, and Dr. Earl Harper, all of whom served Centenary Church as ministers while Mrs. Leland was organist were read by George Eycleshymer, Theodore Burk, and Clarence MacDonald.

Dr. J. Wendell Yeo then spoke of Mrs. Leland's devoted and unselfish service to the Parish through her teaching of fine church music to the choir, as well as her renditions on the organ; and to the community through her regular playing of the tower bells on Friday afternoons and Sunday mornings, as well as on special occasions. Dr. Yeo then presented Mrs. Leland with a check as a gift from the

-- Health For All --

If you're tempted to bleach your hair the shade that gentlemen are supposed to prefer, you might remember that the famous quote ends "but they marry brunettes."

If you can reconcile yourself to the shade of hair that nature gave you, it will be better for the health of your hair. Medical authorities warn that a woman risks losing many of the prized properties of her hair when she sets about becoming a blonde the peroxide way. The hair's sheen, its ability to take and hold a curl, and its general health look are often sacrificed. Bleached hair always looks dry and is brittle and hard to manage. There's little doubt that bleach weakens the hair, since it must be strong enough to penetrate through the major part of each hair to reach the pigment in the center of the shaft.

Getting the right shade of blonde hair is another problem. Peroxide most often produces a harsh yellow, unflattering to all but the very young. So a hair dye must be added to get a shade that will be suitable to the complexion. The two processes considerably increase the strain on the hair.

And that's only the beginning. It isn't the initial cost, it's the upkeep. Hair bleaching requires skill and should be entrusted to no one but a professional. Hair grows about a half inch a month, so newly grown hair must be bleached at least once a month—a continual strain on the budget. Another problem is the fact that bleached hair resists curling. Permanent waves and even routine setting after a shampoo produce inferior results.

So ask yourself, before you decide you must become a blonde bombshell, whether it will be worth the price.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by: The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association whose sole support is the annual sale of Christmas seals in Newton.

Schweiger and Mrs. Samuel Roberts; and Troop 30, under Mrs. Robert G. Ward and Mrs. Norman A. Smith. A total of 34 girls, each carrying a lighted candle in a trefoil holder, made the Girl Scout Promise and accepted the Girl Scout Laws. Then each was pinned with Brownie Wings and the Girl Scout Pin, and was invested by her leaders as an Intermediate Girl Scout.

A representative from each troop attending made a formal presentation of her troop's contribution to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund.

After refreshments the group joined in singing favorite songs. The program closed with the Color Guard completing the Flag Ceremony.

East League Plans To Start Summer Program

With the Newton Senators vs. Chestnut Hill Phillies baseball game last Wednesday, the Newton East Little League ended one of its most successful spring playing seasons. This year the League is proud to announce that every boy participating in its "tryouts" was given a chance to play baseball. To accomplish this, six additional teams representing 108 boys have been added to its regular complement of 10 teams or 168 boys, to make a total of 267 boys participating in regularly scheduled and supervised baseball games. Lack of funds, playing areas, coaching and supervisory personnel resulted in an additional 146 boys participating in only one game each in a series of games designed to give every boy a chance to play baseball. Thus, despite financial and other problems, 422 boys in the Newton Centre, Chestnut Hill, Oak Hill and Thompsonville areas participated in Little League Baseball. With the termination of the spring playing season, the East League has voted, this year for the first time, to extend its program through July and August to accommodate the boys who remain in this area during the summer months. This extension program is being undertaken because of the expressed interest by the boys. However, financial assistance is now urgently needed to offset the heavy burden of the extended spring program. If you wish to contribute toward the success of this children's summer baseball season, your check payable to the Newton East Little League and mailing or delivering it to 125 Cedar Street, Newton Centre. All contributions have been officially declared to be tax deductible by the U. S. Treasury Department.

To Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Dussault (Jane Rutherford) of Newtonville, a third child, second daughter, Donna June Dussault, June 1. Grandparents are Mrs. Louis D. Dussault of Manchester, N. H., and Mr. and Mrs. R. Lincoln Rutherford of West Newton.

Citizens Are Urged To Take All Necessary Precautions For Possible Hurricanes

The normal hurricane season starts about June 15 and ends in November, and in view of the damage caused by the hurricanes and floods of 1954 and 1955 it is not too early to list some of the precautions which should be taken if word comes that a 1956 "big blow" is headed for New England.

Many sources were used by the Massachusetts State Civil Defense Agency in compiling the following list. It would be a good idea to cut it out and paste it on the inside of a closet door. The same precautions should be taken when warning of a tornado or flood is received. Many of the suggestions apply to any type of disaster.

For the Householder
Check supplies of flashlights and batteries, matches, candles, lamps, wicks and kerosene oil. Check batteries in portable radios to be sure that they are charged.

Be sure that articles in your cellar which could be damaged by water are moved to a safe place. Check cellar windows. Check porches, lawn furniture and movable objects out of doors.

Close and lock house windows, but leave a couple of windows open on the side away from the storm to prevent wind from building up pressure inside the house, pressure that could blow out your windows and doors. If you have wooden shutters, close them. Pull up awnings. Close the damper in your fireplace. Fill your bathtub with water.

Put your car in the garage and be sure to leave one garage window open to keep wind pressure from building up inside garage.

Check car batteries, radio, water and oil. Have your gas tank full in case of an emergency move.

If you don't have a garage, park your car away from trees or poles. When car is outside, close the windows tightly, set the hand brake, put the car in gear, but don't lock it if you are parked on the street. Emergency workers might have to move it.

Keep away from windows at the height of the storm.

Find out where you can procure dry ice or natural ice to use in case of loss of electric power. Have as little perishable food in your refrigerator units as possible so that your loss will be less in case of extended power failure. Check the location of the nearest food freezer unit in the event you have to move your perishables.

If you have a freezer, set it at maximum freezing level as early as possible before the arrival of the hurricane. If you avoid opening it and it is fairly full, you can keep frozen meats and vegetables without spoiling for at least 3 days.

Save newspapers to wrap garbage in, in case garbage collections are interrupted.

If your water supply is interrupted, boil water from faucet or well for at least five minutes before using.

Store a three-day supply of canned food in a safe spot along with a can opener. Have a supply of paper plates, cups and spoons ready.

Put in a small supply of canned heat. Have several jars of water tightly capped or buy a supply of spring water.

If you stock up with candles, be especially careful about starting fires when candles are in use. Danger from fire during hurricanes is especially great. High winds spread fires rapidly. Furthermore, firemen will be hard to contact; they may have difficulty getting to you; and their equipment and manpower may not be able to operate at full efficiency.

Check on handy tools; axe, saw, pick-axe or crowbar, and work gloves.

If you have a boat and can get it out of the water, turn it upside down and store it in a barn or other safe place. If it is in the water, anchor it not too close to other boats. Moor boat at either bow or stern, but not both. Secure or store safely cabin barge or other movable objects. Allow between five and seven feet of anchor chain for each foot of depth to cushion wave action.

Evacuate and avoid low-lying beaches and islands. Remember that the majority of deaths from hurricanes are due to drowning.

Don't telephone unnecessarily.

ily. Leave the line open for emergency calls.

Keep children and pets indoors and stay indoors yourself if you can.

Check gutters on house to be sure they are not clogged with leaves.

After the storm is definitely over, move about with great caution. Beware of broken electric wires. Trees, buildings, bridges and even streets may be in weakened condition. If you need help get in touch with the Civil Defense director in your town or city.

For Stores and Factories
Check your cellar stocks and move if possible to avoid water damage.

Check on supply of sand bags.

Brief your employees and arrange for reporting for emergency work in the event communications break down.

Check on matches, candles, lamps, portable radios, flashlights and batteries.

Protect large windows.

Check windows and gutters.

Check on a source of pumps and portable generators.

Check on handy tool supplies; axes, crowbars, pick-axes, etc.

Assurance has been given that the weather bureau is now prepared to issue quicker warnings of approaching hurricanes or tornadoes.

Once again despite feminine opposition, girls names are to be used to identify hurricanes. "Anna" is already on the record books for 1956. The other names from B to Z follow: Betsy, Carla, Dora, Ethel, Flossy, Greta, Hattie, Inez, Judith, Kitty, Laura, Molly, Nona, Odette, Paula, Quenby, Rhoda, Sadie, Terese, Ursel, Vesta, Winny, Xina, Yola, and Zenda.

Anyone interested in securing sponsor or patron tickets should promptly get in touch with the chairman, Mrs. J. Greene Carter, 36 West Cedar Street, Boston.

In New York the September opening of Royal Danish Ballet is already virtually sold out. This ballet company is noted for its acting power and mime, brilliant footwork, soaring elevation and male virility. Its first visit to London was only three years ago when it accompanied its King Frederick IX to the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth.

Mounting Interest In Mental Health

Pre-School Diagnosis Tests Child's Adjustment Problem

By MAY NELSON

Current knowledge in the field of child development and mental health clearly points to the fact that behavior and achievement of children in school are related (within the limits of constitutional endowment) to (1) relations and emotional experiences in the child's pre-school life; (2) current emotional crises in the child's family or neighborhood life, and (3) the unique personal meanings of school experience to the child.

Children begin school differing greatly in their readiness for the learning process and for mixing with persons outside their own families. Going to school is a "crisis" in the life of a child. For several hours each day, the child is cut off from his home and forced to live in an other society unfamiliar to him. Children who are unprepared for this, have trouble in their first year or two — and many continue to have trouble because of their bad start.

Sigmund Gruber, a young clinical psychologist, connected with the "Wellesley Human Relations Service," started in 1949 by the Harvard School of Public Health, has worked out a pre-school diagnosis to judge whether or not a child is ready for school. (Predicting which children will not adjust well to school is like diagnosing an illness in its first stages: it gives the doctor a chance to get to work before serious trouble sets in.) Gruber watches a child play and smear paint, talks to them and to their mothers, and introduces them to a special doll house, his own modification of a familiar type of "play therapy."

The dolls for his house — of all ages, both sexes, and various hair and skin colors — are in a box and he takes them out only as the child asks for them. The choice of dolls, what the child does with them, the extent to which he can concentrate on playing a game or telling a story, along with other factors, are all indicative of what he calls "task-orientation" — in other words, whether the child can start something and stay with it.

If he can, he should be ready for school and society. If he merely throws the dolls about, has no idea of family life in the doll house, gets bored quickly, hates the mother doll, wants the psychiatrist to go away, and so on, he is probably not ready. Observers Follow Up
Of the first fifty children which Gruber tested when he first tried the experiment in Wellesley, thirteen seemed fine, thirteen definitely unready, and the rest somewhere in between. Observers were sent into the kindergarten the next year to follow up on the children. From a series of complicated observations, it was reported that almost all the children considered unready, were having trouble in one way or another; six even were referred by the school to the clinic for special psychiatric help. Almost none of the youngsters given an adequate rating by the doll-house test presented any serious problem.

In Massachusetts in 1951, the average age of children referred to psychiatric clinics was 10. However, most of them had long histories of serious emotional disorders stemming from ruptures in human relations in the family or treatment from parents who themselves were in need of attention. During the first year of operation of the clinical program in Wellesley, the average age of the children referred was also 10 years. But in the third year after a mental-health consultation program was begun in the public school system, the average age of the child coming into the clinic had dropped from 10 to 6.9 years. (And out of all, the percentage of children who were in need of clinic care dropped to less than 20 percent.)

Clinical experience shows that many children unable to cope with the demands of school because of their abnormal ego development, end up after several school years with seriously distorted self-images and inferiority feelings.

Therefore, it is in the primary grades and kindergartens where children are making their initial adjustment away from their families, where the "unfinished emotional business" of early childhood can be seen most clearly and help given most successfully. Sometimes it comes about by very elementary applied psychology. One second grad: teacher asked for advice about a restless, aggressive boy who had created a permanent state of uproar in her class. It was discovered that the class was one of two into which a very large first grade had been split. The split had cut across the schools "gangs" who had been together the previous year. The expert consulted suggested that each child write down which classmates he would like to sit next to, giving 3 choices. This would enable the teacher to reseat the class and put friends together. It would also give the children a chance to let

Church School Attendance Awards Made

Church School attendance awards were given to 95 pupils at Children's Sunday exercises held in connection with the Sunday morning service June 3 at the First Unitarian Society in Newton.

Beginning with the traditional Children's Sunday floral procession, the order of service included a special anthem, "We Sing of Golden Mornings," by the Primary Choir, directed by Mrs. Elizabeth T. Sweetser; call to worship, Peter Cobb; invocation, Cheryl Kuebler; Lord's prayer, Thomas Salzer; and two anthems by the Senior Choir, "O Light Divine" by Archangelus, and "Praise" by Alec Rowley. The Rev. John Ogden Fisher, minister, preached the sermon.

Vernon Myers led the Upper School in a "Statement of Purpose." Frederick G. Fisher 3rd led the Lower School in a reading, "Give Me a Good Digestion." Pamela Bachrach led a unison reading of G. Ash-ton Oldham's "America First." There was also a church school faculty recognition.

Headed by Peter Cobb, of the Jaynes League high school group, with a church school attendance award for the thirteenth year, and his younger brother, Nathan Cobb, with a ten-year record, the church school attendance awards went to members of the Upper, Lower and Primary schools.

On Sunday afternoon, the annual church school picnic was held at the Tabor Day Camp in Needham, adjourning after outdoor games and contests to the parish hall, because of rain, for the all-family picnic and customary watermelon feast.

Ship Sailings
New York — About 10,000 vessels leave the harbor of New York in a normal year, according to port authority figures.

The Marine Corps has three combat divisions with supporting forces and three Marine Aircraft wings, to provide balanced ground-air teams in its Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Marine Forces.

World Population
New York — At present rates of population increase in almost every part of the globe, the world will have about five billion people in the next 50 years.

Swimming Can Be Dangerous!

The number two accidental killer of young adults is on the march again. Drowning will be the cause of 1200 deaths among the 15 to 24 year-old age group this year, predicts the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company. Drownings, among this group, are exceeded only by auto fatalities in shocking frequency. June, July and August are the months when well over half of all drownings occur, most of them through the most heedful of all sports—swimming.

The Institute has found that because the young adult is likely to become over confident and feel superior to the observance of simple safety rules in swimming, he is tempted to take chances. Adventure, at this age, is more thrilling than security. 15 to 24 year olds, therefore, are subject to special dangers.

Here are water safety rules prepared by the Institute for Safer Living especially for young adults.

1. Avoid the temptation of being a clown in the water. "Stunts" and "showing off" may rate cheers from the crowd, but watch out for making accident news as a tragic aftermath.

2. The "buddy system" may sound like "kid stuff," but it has a real merit for older persons as well. If each swimmer selects a friend who is a good swimmer to watch and be watched by, there's far less chance of either swimmer getting into trouble.

3. Diving takes real skill — and caution. Find out first whether the water is deep enough, whether hidden rocks, submerged crags, stumps and sand bars are lurking beneath the surface to produce a hazardous diving area.

4. Even if you are not diving, explore depths with caution. Currents may wash away at river and ocean floors, changing depths rapidly enough to make even an often frequented spot a place full of surprises. If you risk the unknown in water, you are inviting danger.

5. Abide by the often quoted rule: after eating, wait at least one hour before going into the water.

6. Avoid swimming alone. Night dips are dangerous, despite the moonlight splendor of the hour, even when you're in a group.

7. Watch beaches where waves break with such force as to cause undertows or currents. They may drag a swimmer under and away from shore. If you don't know about the local undertows ask a native.

8. Don't overdo yourself. When you swim out from shore remember you've got to swim back. Exhaustion is the prime danger in the water.

9. Never pretend you're in trouble in the water. You may cry "wolf" once too often and find no one heeds your real cries for help.

One last word of advice to beach devotees: don't try to get that summer tan all in one session under the sun! Experts at the Institute for Safer Living point out that crippling skin burns and, occasionally, death can result. Cover exposed skin areas with a generous amount of anti-burn ointment squeezed from a handy metal tube and repeat the dose after each swim. Always cover up at the first sign of pinkness.

HOSTESS — Mrs. Joseph Greenbaum of 57 Gralynn road, Newton, entertained delegates and their wives at the first event of the annual convention of the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges last Sunday afternoon. A reception was held in the penthouse of the Court Square Press Building on Greenbaum street in Boston.

Increase Rate
Washington — Rate of increase of the number of people in the U. S. is about 1.7 per year, which compares with the world average of 1.3 per cent. The U. S. rate is higher than that of India.
